

President Makes Trip To Philadelphia For World's Series Game

"HOT PAPA" SONG LEAVES WILL COLD AFTER WARM SERIES

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 14.—I don't know what it's the height of but it's the height of something terrible.

And that is when forty million people have been listening intently to Graham McNamee for two hours describe thrilling world series game and then hear, "we will now switch you to back to the studio for the safety can opener hour where you will be highly entertained by Sarah Wou who will whine for you that ditty, 'I Just Don't Believe I Can Prevent Myself From Caring in a Small Way for That Sleazebag Broiling, Half Burned Man of Mine.'"

After which those harmonizing hounds will entertain you during Rosenbaum's catchup hour.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

While Sunday was October 13, weather condition were such that Pa New noted two picnic parties in the woods near the city. The members of the picnic parties and their lunch at tables in the out of doors. This is a most remarkable occurrence for October.

And while talking of the woods, whether the frost is responsible or not the leaves are a most gorgeous color at the present time. With their bright yellow, brown and scarlet colorings the trees are a most appealing picture.

According to a local traveler the Perry highway is now open into Mercer. When the "esbug" celebration was held there was a rule or so of the route eluding into Mercer that had not been completed.

New Castle will have a Halloween celebration. With the Legion taking the lead in the matter it is assured that the affair will be successfully arranged and conducted.

Swimming holes which are frequented by hundreds of New Castle people during the warmer months are as deserted as the Deserted Village quite deserted, as a matter of fact. A lowered thermometer does not draw crowds to the beaches.

The world's series will likely end this afternoon. After the rally by Philadelphia in the seventh inning on Saturday with the score 8-0 against them there are few who are inclined to dispute the fact that the A's will cop the world's championship.

Legal holidays coming on Saturday are rather an inconvenience to business men who forget about the occasion until the day arrives.

Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn urges all persons using electrical apparatus such as electric irons, heating pads, etc., to make sure that they are turned off after using. There have been several fires during the past few months due to the current being left turned on in electric irons and heating pads.

City employees are grading off the ground along the Nesquehanna at the foot of Mercer street. It had been suggested that this plot of ground be turned over to the citizens for parking purposes, but whether that use is intended for the plot is not known.

Hoover To Lead Baseball Party To Philadelphia

President Hoover, His Wife, And Several Officials To See Series Game Today

WILL TRAVEL ON SPECIAL TRAIN

First Time In History President Of Country Has Left Capital For Baseball

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—President and Mrs. Hoover arrived at the Baltimore and Ohio station at exactly 1 p. m. today to attend the fifth game of the world series between the Cubs and Athletics. The President was accompanied by an entourage of cabinet officials, White House attaches and newspapermen. Greeted by Mayor and Mrs. Harry A. Mackey, the President and his party were placed in motor cars and hurried to Shibe park, the scene of today's game.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The lure of America's national pastime as played by champions, proved too strong for President Hoover today, and as a result, he, Mrs. Hoover and a small party of officials will leave Washington this morning for Philadelphia to view the fifth and possibly deciding game of the world series.

The executive made a snap decision Sunday to take in today's game between the Athletics and the Cubs, and arrangements were hurriedly made for a special train and seats for the party.

In President's Party. Accompanying the Hoovers will be Attorney General and Mrs. Mitchell, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Lawrence Richey and Walter Newton of the White House secretariat, Commander Joel T. Boone, personal physician and about 15 correspondents.

Former President Coolidge took in all of the world series games played in Washington in 1924 and 1925 but this is the first time a chief executive has been sufficient of a baseball fan to leave the city to witness one of the championship games.

The President's special will return almost immediately after the game. The party will reach Philadelphia only a half hour before game time and motor immediately to Shibe park.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Hoover tossed the burdens of his office on the shelf today and departed for Philadelphia, just like another fan, to see the fifth and perhaps the deciding game of the world series.

Making up his mind suddenly, after getting the baseball fever from the wild seventh inning on Saturday, the President collected a small party of cabinet officers and left the Capital at 10 a. m. in a couple of special cars attached to a B. and O. train. In the meantime, someone pulled Box 49 while the alarm from 48 was recording. After one round of 48 had been sounded, the system recorded 33, then two taps, followed by four taps, and a round of 49. Fourth ward, and Truck B from Central station went to Box 48, while No. 3, No. 5 and Truck B went to Box 49.

The President will reach Philadelphia with just barely time to make Shibe Field before the starting time. His train is due to arrive at one p. m. The return trip will be made immediately after the game and the President will be back in the White House for a late dinner.

Two Alarms Turned In For Auto Fire

Firemen were called to Lathrop and Randolph streets at 5:50 Saturday evening, when leaking gasoline ignited from the exhaust on a car owned by Mary Raney. The damage amounted to approximately $10.

A still alarm was telephoned in to Central station and Box 48 was pulled. In the meantime, someone pulled Box 49 while the alarm from 48 was recording. After one round of 48 had been sounded, the system recorded 33, then two taps, followed by four taps, and a round of 49. Fourth ward, and Truck B from Central station went to Box 48, while No. 3, No. 5 and Truck B went to Box 49.

GREASE TAKES FIRE
ON RESTAURANT RANGE
Central and No. 2 and 5 apparatus was called to the restaurant of A. Nader at 30 West Washington street by an alarm from Box 25 at 10:10 this morning, when grease on the range ignited. There was no damage caused but a great quantity of smoke was blown off by the blowing grease.

STATE POLICE WORKING ON M'KAY BOMBING

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Oct. 14.—State police and county authorities today are investigating the dynamiting of the home of District Attorney Leo McKay which Saturday morning wrecked the front porch and cracked the front brick wall of the house as the McKay family slept.

The congregation of the Oakland avenue Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor, yesterday passed resolutions deploring the act of the vandals, expressing admiration for McKay's campaign against lawlessness in Mercer county and pledging their support to uphold the laws and the district attorney.

James Donato, 40, and "Black Pete" Voltagio were arrested 12 hours after the bombing and held for questioning. Voltagio was released and Donato is held for further investigation. The two men are said to be the leaders of a bootleg gang in this territory.

The bombing is believed to be a retaliatory act against McKay's activities in cleaning up Mercer county and his efforts to stop the flow of liquor from across the Ohio state line into Sharon.

Soviet Airmen Reach Seattle

Plane "Land Of Soviets" Arrives In Seattle, Washington Sunday

GREAT RECEPTION GIVEN AVIATORS

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 14.—Seattle today was an enthusiastic host to Russia's four good will fliers who arrived last night on their 12,000 mile jaunt from Moscow to New York.

Eager crowds that waited most of the day for the monoplanes' appearance swept down on the plane and its crew as soon as "The Land of the Soviets" came to a halt.

The plane hopped off from Waterfall, Alaska, at 7 o'clock yesterday morning following repairs to one of the engines. The Land of the Soviets left Moscow August 23, but has been land-bound a good share of the time by inclement weather.

Motor trouble forced the plane down at Waterfall while it was en route from Sitka to Seattle.

Mammoth Airship On Test Flight

British Dirigible Largest In World Taken Up For Test Flight Today

(International News Service)
CARDINGTON, Eng., Oct. 14.—With fourteen passengers and a crew of 38 aboard, the British Dirigible R-101, the largest airship in the world, soared aloft at 11:15 a. m. today on its initial trial flight.

Major G. H. Scott, who piloted the dirigible R-34 in its flight across the Atlantic some years ago, was at the helm of the huge airship, as it pointed its blunt nose upward while thousands on the field below cheered wildly.

The results of today's flight are being watched with intense interest throughout England. The airship has been termed by some critics as obsolete, but among the fourteen passengers were several British air experts who were certain today's flight would prove that untrue.

House Takes Fire From Electric Pad

No. 3 department and Truck B from Central station were called to the home of Mrs. C. W. Oatey of 734 Croton avenue at 8:25 Saturday evening, when an electric heating pad which had been in use was left turned on in a bed at the home. The pad overheated and set fire to the bed clothing and in turn communicated to furniture and the interior of the room. Damage to the extent of $50 to the home and $150 to the contents resulted from the blaze. The loss is covered by insurance.

Flood Prevention Bond Issue Project Is Presented By City Solicitor In Today's Discussion

In another article on the projected five-year improvement plan bond issue, to be voted upon by the citizens of New Castle at the November election, City Solicitor Robert M. White presents the facts concerning the projected $150,000 issue for improving the channel of the Nesquehanna creek, as a measure of flood prevention.

The article follows:
Question 5.
Shall the indebtedness of the city of New Castle be increased in the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) for the purpose of widening and improving the channel of the Nesquehanna creek?
On September 30, 1912, a committee from the Board of Trade presented to council a recommendation that a study be made of the Nesquehanna creek to devise a plan to avoid all possibility of future floods from that stream. This committee was reappointed before council by C. H. Akers, Esquire. Nothing was done at that time and in March of 1913 the great flood came that cost the city many thousands of dollars. Before that time the Nesquehanna creek would flood almost regularly every spring and fall, and caused repeated losses to the residents and merchants along its banks and in the main business district.
After the flood of 1913 the council authorized Mr. Milholland to procure the services of R. Wintrop Pratt, a Cleveland engineer of national prominence, and on April 13, 1913, Mr. Milholland and Mr. Pratt made a complete report to council and recommended that the city should (Continued On Page Five)

Local Citizens Pay Tribute To General Pulaski

Carnegie Auditorium Is Crowded For Memorial Service Sunday

MANY SPEAKERS SHARE PROGRAM

Meeting Is Enthusiastic Display Of Americanism On Part Of All

Pride of ancestry and love of country found full expression on Sunday, October 13, when Americans of this city and county, of Polish lineage, celebrated in an impressive manner the death of Brigadier-General Casimir Pulaski, Polish nobleman, who met his death in the American Revolution.

As a memorial to the memory of a great man it was a striking affair, as a demonstration of Americanism it was even more impressive for numbers among the crowd that packed the Carnegie auditorium to the last inch of its capacity were men who were born in Poland but who took up arms for America when the call came.

Outstanding Speakers. The speaker's list was a cosmopolitan one. City and county officials, representatives of patriotic societies, the official representatives of the Polish republic, and members of the committee who made the celebration possible. Some of the addresses were in English, a few in Polish, but all of them in the same key, that of devotion to American ideals by men and women who were born in Poland, or whose parents were.
Not even the bright lustre of the deeds of General Pulaski could out (Continued On Page Eight)

Two Killed, And Twelve Injured Auto Toll In Pittsburgh District

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 14.—Two deaths and 12 persons injured in traffic accidents were reported over the week-end in the Pittsburgh district.
Henry, Junelevich, 13, of Bulger died in a hospital here late last night from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile driving near Burgettstown, Pa.
George C. Gillespie, 67, of Ashtabula was killed late Saturday night when a motorist struck him down and the car following ran over his body. A third motorist took him to a hospital where he was pronounced dead.

WAYFARERS ASSEMBLE HERE IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

New Castle was host Saturday to the first biennial national convention of the National Oasis, Wayfarers, East and West, of North America, held in the Knights of Pythias Hall on East Washington street.

At this meeting, Ralph D. Snyder of Suffari Oasis No. 1 of this city was honored by being elected National Vice-Chief Mogul, second highest office in the organization. Twenty-two delegates from Oases in Pennsylvania and Ohio were in attendance and participated in the proceedings. J. M. Southworth of Al Hafed Oasis No. 1, Barborton, O., was first elected as national chief mogul, but following his selection, he resigned, because of his many activities.

National Association of Manufacturers Welcomes Probe Into Lobby Activity

SUFFICIENT POWER WITHOUT LOBBYING

By JAMES L. RILGALLEN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A congressional investigation of "the entire realm of lobbying at the seat of the national government" is welcomed by the National Association of Manufacturers. It was asserted this afternoon by John E. Edgerton of Nashville, Tenn., president of the organization, in a speech at the thirty-fourth meeting of the association.

Edgerton maintained that manufacturers "who have just causes and are employing honest methods of interpreting them to those in public office" have nothing to fear from such an inquiry.
"The sooner and more thoroughly such an investigation is done the better it will be for organizations like ours which represent in proper and unashamed ways distinct bodies of opinion on public questions which (Continued On Page Nine)

Award Contract For Dam Removal

Council Awards Job For Taking Rosena Dam Out Of Neshannock

When city council convened today bids for the removal of the Rosena dam were opened and councilmen awarded a contract at a low of $750 to Woods and Golder. Removal of the dam which it is alleged has been a flood menace will start as soon as the contractor can do the work.

The city engineer estimated the removal of the timbers and their disposal would cost about $1,000. John E. Powell presented a bid of $975 but Woods and Golder presented a lower bid.

Councilman Tyler presented the motion which was seconded by Burns and Mayor Gillespie made the third vote.

A special judicial sub-committee will conduct the inquiry, under the chairmanship of Senator T. E. Caraway (D) of Arkansas. It will be controlled by the Democratic-Insurgent coalition which thus far has dominated the traffic war in the senate.

SHIBE PARK, PHILA. DELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—The man who is Herbert Hoover was to revert to the boy that is in all of us and sit among the thirty thousand roaring fans, still in a pink glow over Saturday's climactic rally, for the do or don't game of the world series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs this afternoon.

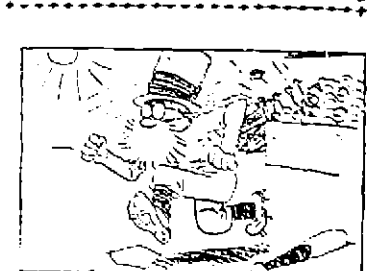

It was to be the fifth game of baseball's annual masterpiece and the final one, if the Athletics win it. They already had three victories in hand and needed only a fourth today to fall heir to the highest honor within the gift of professional baseball, the world's championship.

May Go To Chicago

So much for what will happen if they do win. If they don't, the series will go into a 3 to 2 ration and another train ride to Chicago for the sixth game on Wednesday. The Athletics can take title to the championship by winning any one of the three remaining games and naturally were prohibitive favorites in the betting, of which there was practically none. An ultimate Athletic victory has been conceded by everybody except the extremely fighting Cubs, who had recovered a measure of their composure after the disastrous seventh inning of Saturday in which a record total of ten runs were scored to win a ball game that apparently had been lost beyond recall. Anyhow, the Cubs were conceding nothing.

For one thing, the sun, which had been one of the main instigators of that rally, was not visible today, leaving Mack Wilson no alternative but (Continued On Page Eighteen)

The players come, both smart and dumb, and jase and slow and clever, they come and go, as well you know, but Mack goes forever. For one, a player made by the A's, there is a lullaby, a lullaby of a lullaby, and you may know as Connie. The players come, both smart and dumb, and strong and mighty, and age, and Mack signs them on for the life, they stay in Philadelphia. He may be old, but he is smart, he asks those signing Cubs, the weather, sixty-two, all you can get out those baseball clubs

Pennsylvania Baseball Team Loses World's Title By 4 To 3 Score

Returning from St. Louis where they witnessed the Pennsylvania and Missouri Pacific railroad teams oppose each other for the world's railroad baseball championship, New Castle's delegation arrived here Sunday. The local men traveled in a special Pullman over the Pennsylvania lines.

The Altoona works nine, which represented the Pennsylvania, lost to the Little Rock, Ark., team of the Mis-same aggregation. It was estimated that the visiting members of the organization with those belonging locally numbered over seven hundred.

Following the parade, a big meeting was held in the auditorium of the Ben Franklin Junior High school, where a class of 111 men from various Oasls of Pennsylvania and Ohio were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

During the convention session of the order, it went on record as being in full accord with the law enforcement platform of President Hoover, as presented in his inaugural speech.

The Wayfarers East and West of North America, designed to be the playground of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, was organized in December 1926. It was incorporated December 6, 1926.

The organizer of the organization was Attorney Howard L. Weaver, Akron, O., who is the senior, past national chief mogul. He was present at the convention and acted as installing officer.

The place of meeting for the next biennial convention was not decided upon at this convention being left up to the board of national officers, because of the fact that is is planned to develop the organization throughout the United States in the next two years and the next convention is to be held at the place most likely to be the center of interest.

The primary object of the organization is the providing of care and needed funds for crippled children and at the national convention, funds on hand were distributed for use in the various districts, where the order is now functioning, which included this city.

case as Attorney Clyde V. Alley, executor Mrs. Daisy Kirkler Lewis and James Witherspoon, and defendants
Eva Wallace, Nellie Brothert, Bernice
Brown and Katherine Dufford.

When the will of the late John W.
Brothers was offered for probate, the defendants raised objection on the grounds that undue influence had been exerted by Daisy Kirkler Lewis in the making of the will and that by reason of his infirmities, John W.
Brothers was incompetent to make a will.

In the writing purporting to be the will of John W. Brothers had left gold to his grandson, James Witherspoon, and the balance of his estate, real and personal to Mrs. Daisy Kirkler Lewis, who had been looking after him previous to his death.

Eva Wallace and Nellie Brothers, who are fighting the alleged will, are daughters of John W. Brothers; and Bernice Brown and Katherine Dufford, are granddaughters. The present trial is before a jury on petition of the objectors to the alleged will.

Testimony is being offered to show mental conditions of John W. Brothers at the time the alleged will was made, which is dated April 19, 1929.
It was offered for probate on July 5, 1929.

Deaths of the Day

Mr. Agan's Funeral
Funeral services of the late Joseph Eugene Agan, son of Mr. and Mrs.
James L. Agan of 216 West Madison avenue, were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Margaret's church. The services were largely attended by the sorrowing friends and relatives.

Solemn high requiem mass was held with Rev. Fr. Keating, pastor of the church, as celebrant; Rev. Fr. P.
S. Clifford as deacon and Rev. Fr.
J. Dudley Nee as sub-deacon. Rev.
Fr. J. McKenna, pastor of St.
Mary's parish, and Rev. Kevin Gunnagh of Pittsburgh, were on the altar
during the service.

Fr. Gunnagh, who was a school chum of the deceased, gave the eulogy, telling of the brilliant career and life of his deceased friend and speaking of him in the highest terms.

Thomas Cunningham sang during the service, with Mrs. Gillespie presiding at the organ.

The pallbearers were four uncles,
E. J. Scanlon, E. F. Scanlon, M. J.
Scanlon and P. H. Scanlon, and two cousins, Eugene and Patrick Scanlon.
Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

School Children Aid Pulaski Celebration

One of the features of the Pulaski celebration which was held Sunday, October 13, was the work of the school children participating in it. The three Polish schools were well represented and in this group of schools, the children of St. Philip and James played a large part.
Prior to the beginning of the celebration the youngsters parade from the church to the auditorium, headed by a float. Gaily costumed youngsters were on the float, with pictures of Washington, Pulaski and Kosciuszko forming a center piece.
In the afternoon program the boys and girls presented a group of musical numbers directed by Miss Marie A. Dutkiewicz, organist of St. Philip and James church. In the numbers were Polish airs and a medley of American heart songs, arranged by Miss Dutkiewicz. The medley paid tribute to America and her heroes of the Revolution, Washington and Pulaski, a reminder of the South was found in "Dixie" with a finale using "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean." The solo part was sung by Little Teddy Kozioł with Henry Kolodziej, Witold Lysa and Constantine Kilisz as soloists in "Dixie."

The adult church choir presented a Polish medley of songs with the following as soloists: Marie A. Dutkiewicz, Mary Melior, Stanley Dlugosiecki, Sophie Garzeski, Josepha Garzeski and Andrey Biedka.
The names of students in St. Philip and James winning essay medals are Bonnie Wenda and Henry Dlugosiecki. The winners in the Polish contest were Bertha Zajac, Helen Turkiewicz and Jana Cwynar.

FLOOD PREVENTION ISSUE IS DISCUSSED

mended a program of improvement to eliminate floods.
The plan was predicated on the fact that provision must be made to carry 25,000 second feet of water in the Neshannock, in order to provide safety. It was found that in the flood of 1913, almost that much water had to be accommodated. The plan was very comprehensive and has been tacitly adopted as the best and most practical plan. A copy of it is available and can be studied by anyone interested.
In order that the great mass of the people may know substantially what the plan recommends, we set out here in meagre form and simple terms the chief features of the plan.
First—The Erie bridge at the mouth of the Shenango was far too small, allowing only about one-third of the amount of water to pass under it that would run under the Washington street bridge. At the time of the 1913 flood the water was three feet lower below this bridge than above it. This bridge has now been rebuilt, and the new structure is ample to provide safe passage for the water in any flood.
Second—The two Pennsylvania bridges just above the Erie bridge have too short a span and are too low. In the 1913 flood there was no appreciable difference in the water levels, above and below these bridges, but it was estimated that were the Erie bridge replaced, as it now has been, these bridges would be a menace. Mr. Millholland and Mr. Pratt had the assurance of the engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad that if the city would do the other things to carry out the plan, the Pennsylvania would raise these bridges three or four feet. The Pennsylvania could hardly be compelled to do this until the city did its share, but if the plan were completed, these bridges could be easily raised.
Third—The channel of the creek from the Rosena dam to the Shenango was encroached upon and very narrow, and its course was not straight, so that in times of flood the water below the dam could not be distinguished. The engineers recommended that these banks be widened, straightened and walled. This has been done by the city, so that now the stream from the dam to Jefferson street flows in a wide, straight channel, between high concrete or stone walls. From Jefferson street to the Shenango the channel is wide and unobstructed, except for the two Pennsylvania bridges.

Fourth—The Rosena dam was an obstruction and it was recommended that it be provided with gates to be used in times of flood or that a movable dam be placed there. This dam has now been broken through and it is planned to remove it entirely, thus menace too has been eliminated and the plan recommended has been carried out.
Fifth—The Washington street bridge is too small and the pier in its center obstructs the flow of water and causes eddies that deposit dirt in the channel. The engineers realized that this bridge could not be removed or raised. They therefore recommended that the pier be extended up stream in a manner to allow an easy and regular flow of water under the bridge and that a concrete apron be built under this bridge, after the bed of the stream had been dredged. This apron was to extend a hundred feet above and a hundred feet below the bridge. The cost of doing this work was then estimated at $18,255. That has never been done. About ten years ago the city employed men and dredged out under this bridge during one summer, but because of the pier not being extended, the dirt has filled in again and would have to be removed before the plan as recommended could be carried out.
Sixth—Above the Washington street bridge, to Rural avenue, the stream is of uneven width and the banks are very low at places so that the water at flood time is impeded and overflows into Neshannock avenue. It was recommended that the banks be cut back to a uniform width. In accordance with the plan, the city established channel lines and all building since has conformed to that. The new North street bridge is built on the new lines. It was also recommended that the bed of the stream be dredged and all the big rocks that are found there to be taken out. A plan of a rip-rap wall was recommended, and this could be built largely of the stone and rock in the center of the channel. Very little has been done with the channel above the Washington street bridge. It was also recommended that the banks be built up to a uniform elevation of 505 feet above sea level, so that the water could not flow over in times of flood.
Seventh—It was recommended that all storm sewers emptying into the Neshannock, all of which back up into cellars at time of flood, be equipped with valves or flood gates to prevent the entry of flood water. None of this work has been done.
It can be seen that much of the plan of Mr. Millholland and Mr. Pratt has been carried out. The cost to the city already has been more than $200,000. But the plan has not been completed and the work that has been done is useless if the water gets high enough to run into Neshannock avenue and Cretan avenue. Then too, the city cannot ask the Pennsylvania to raise its bridges until the city has done its share of the work of avoiding floods. Many people would like to see a clean channel cut down the Neshannock, all the old stones and rocks taken out and a slightly wall along the banks, for the looks of the thing.
Was the judgment of the engineers vindicated? Older residents remember the conditions before 1913. They remember 1913. They observe that since 1913 the Neshannock that used to overflow almost every year has overflowed only once in 15 years and years. There is a reason for that. It is estimated that $150,000 will complete the plan.

Power to Fight Off COLDS

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE Builds New Strength

Why is it that some people never have colds? They are never laid up with serious illness. This power to resist disease is the result of proper nourishment.

When the necessary elements to build this power or resistance are lacking in the diet, cod liver oil when given in palatable form as in Father John's Medicine will supply the necessary strength and power to throw off the disease.

Father John's Medicine contains the highest grade cod liver oil, so prepared that it is easily taken up by the system and is pleasant to take.

Father John's Medicine has had 75 years of success as a body building food medicine. It is used in 184 Hospitals and Institutions.

Court Opinions Handed Down In Several Cases

Decrees By Judges Hildebrand
And Chambers in Cases
Recently Heard

Opinions were handed down by Judges H. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers this morning in a number of cases which have recently been argued before them.

Opinions by Judge Hildebrand are as follows:

John C. Persch against W. N. Nelson. Rule issued August 26 upon defendant's petition is discharged and the case is restored to its status at the time of the issuance of the rule.

This is an action in trespass to recover damages for injuries in an automobile accident. The defendant presented a petition asking that the suit be dismissed for the reason that a suit had been entered by defendant against the plaintiff in Mercer county. It was claimed that under the act of April 12, 1929, it was the duty of the plaintiff to enter a set-off, and that failure to do so rendered the suit in Mercer county void. The court holds that the act does not apply to this case.

Walter R. Hawk and Mabel M. Hawk against Harry V. Kuhn, landlord, and John W. Miller, constable. Complaints filed by defendants to board of plaintiffs overruled. Defendants are ordered to file affidavits of defense and upon filing of such affidavits, rule issued upon plaintiffs for judgment for want of affidavit of defense is discharged. The case grows out of trouble over household goods.

Hartwell & Phillips company, now for use of John W. Hartwell and Thomas F. Phillips against Frances J. Connor, rule issued upon defendant's petition to open judgment is discharged and the petition upon which said rule was issued is dismissed at defendant's cost. The trouble was over an automobile contract.

Opinions by Judge Chambers are as follows:

Commonwealth against S. A. Levine, new trial refused. This was a case in which Levine was convicted of having assaulted Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Blaser, who went to the Levine home to serve a writ.

M. J. Kraus against J. A. Evans, D. A. Evans and M. J. Teatons. Judgment of non-pros entered March 6, 1929, is opened and the plaintiff is permitted to file statement of claim within 10 days. The case is an action in trespass.

Ralph D. Griffith and others against the Atlantic Refining company. The Atlantic Refining company may file a supplemental affidavit of defense. The case grows out of a dispute over matter connected with a gasoline station in Ellwood City.

J. S. Riley & Son against W. E. Perver. Judgment of Justice of the Peace Gilmore for plaintiff is reversed. Trouble was over a bill about which there was a dispute, and the court holds that the trial was not properly conducted.

Helena Gernick, formerly Helena Mazi, petition for decree declaring rights under will of Martin Mazi. Held that Helena Mazi has power to convey to Matt Fabianovich land described in petition.

shine the splendor of the celebration as a gesture of Americanism. Pulaski's deeds were those of a soldier, but his aid in establishing freedom and justice for the American colonists merely acted as a torch to light the peace time endeavors of his countrymen who have followed him here in America. Upon the tongues of some of the speakers still hangs the accent of the mother country, but their expressions, their sentiments and their reactions Sunday were purely American.

Auditorium Packed.

For the celebration, Carnegie auditorium was crowded to the doors, and seemingly as many as were inside were turned away. The day was fair and the celebration attracted hundreds, not alone of Polish lineage, but men and women whose ancestors came over in the Mayflower. They were all there in a common cause, that of honoring a man who gave his all that freedom might live.

The celebration got under way promptly at 2 o'clock, with the chairman of the program committee, John C. Wajert, delivering a brief introductory address. He called the chairman of the day, Mayor Guy J. Wadlinger, to the platform and in a few words turned the program over to him. Because of the length of the program Mayor Wadlinger wasted little time in his address, being followed by the Pennsylvania E. & A. division band. The crowd sang America and Secretary John Turek was introduced. The invocation was then delivered by Rev. Francis Baczewski.

The celebration, as were all those in the various parts of the country yesterday, was a following out of the proclamation issued by President Herbert Hoover, and this proclamation Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand read. He was followed by Mayor William H. Gillespie who welcomed the immense crowd. "It is a real pleasure for me to be here today," said Mayor Gillespie, "to join with you in honoring the memory of General Pulaski."

Congressman Swick.

Congressman J. Howard Swick, representative in congress from this district, was present and was next introduced. His address was a splendid one. In it he paid tribute to Pulaski, but urged that the ideals which actuated Pulaski in his fighting for the colonies be an example to those living to carry to higher grounds the standards of American government.

Judge James A. Chambers, the next speaker, dwelt upon Americanism as the keynote of his address. "What is America?" he asked. "Not just a large area of land, not geographic lines, but an idea, an ideal, an embodiment of the principle that all men are created free and equal. You people of Polish lineage can never forget the sacrifice and heroism of your countryman, Count Pulaski," said Judge Chambers.

Because he had to leave early to fill a radio speaking engagement in Pittsburgh at 6:30 o'clock, Vice Consul J. Kubisz of Pittsburgh was next introduced. The vice-consul spoke in both English and Polish. Physically, he is a splendid example of manhood, but his ability as a speaker goes beyond that. In classic style he extolled the courage and high resolve of his countryman, Pulaski, but the beauty of his words of eulogy but added to the force of his admonition to the men and women present, that they go forward with new resolve to be better Americans.

One of the younger speakers of the day was Attorney Anthony T. Krzyzan of Youngstown, O., who though immature in years, electrified the big audience with the magic of his words. Hardly more than a boy in appearance, he had his audience cheering him as he finished.

Patriotic Representatives.

The Daughters of the American Revolution were represented by Mrs. James T. Ray, regent of Lawrence chapter. Briefly she expressed the pleasure her organization had in joining in the Pulaski celebration, and thanked the committee for its courteous invitation to be a part of the day's program.

For the Sons of the American Revolution, Attorney Homer C. Drake, registrar, spoke. Brief as it was, Mr. Drake's address was a classic. "Making history is not confined to war," said Mr. Drake. "Peace writes its chapters, and those of us who are here must write our records as we go." He concluded with the quota-

Uncle Of Philly's Second Baseman, Living Here, Thinks A's Are Winners

Andrew Bishop of 314 Cunningham avenue has a hunch the Athletics will take the series.

"It's sort of hard to say, but the Athletics already have a real edge over Chicago and will probably win," said this man who has watched baseball and particularly the world series for years.

But the local man is more interested this year because Max Bishop, second baseman for Philadelphia is a nephew of his. Mr. Bishop and his son, Clyde, have been down in front of The News each afternoon for every world series game, watching Max help fight it out for Connie Mack's team.

When asked what he thought of his nephew's playing, he replied that while he doesn't appear to be among the leading stars, nevertheless his playing has been good.

The Bishop of baseball fame resided in Pittsburgh and visits his uncle here frequently. His last visit was made this past summer.

Famous Actor In Role Of Shylock

R. D. McLean To Appear At The Cathedral On Tuesday Evening

Announcement is made that on Tuesday, October 15, R. D. McLean, an old favorite of the stage will be seen in New Castle for one night only at the Cathedral auditorium. On this occasion, supported by a cast from the Dramatic school, Carnegie Institute of Technology, this distinguished and well-known tragedian will appear as "Shylock" in Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice," a part which he has played thousands of times.

It has been fifteen years since Mr. MacLean has appeared in the cast but there are still many in this section to whom R. D. MacLean and Brutus, Ingomar, Richard III, and other of the great tragic roles, are almost synonymous terms. "Shylock" is his favorite part and the dramatic critics of the west coast, to which section his activities have been confined during recent years, acclaim him as the greatest "Shylock" since Edwin Booth, and his audiences enthusiastically concur in that belief.

Local War Veteran Will Enter Hospital

Roy Buckley, local World War veteran, who is suffering from the effects of injuries received in service, left today for Philadelphia, where he will undergo treatment in the U. S. Veterans Bureau hospital there.

Mr. Buckley received a preliminary examination at the Veterans Bureau in Pittsburgh several weeks ago, at which time he was ordered to present himself to the Philadelphia hospital for treatment.

Hospitalization was secured through the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

There was continued success and interest in the revival services held yesterday in the Primitive Methodist church. Rev. Howard Sweeten preached three times to large audiences. In the morning he preached on the words, "Be not conformed to this world but be ye transformed." His subject being "How To Keep Saved." In the afternoon he spoke on Pentecost in its relation to sanctifying grace as well as fulness of power for service. Last night the sermon brought great conviction as he spoke on "My Spirit Shall Not Always Strive With Man" or the thought of procrastination, several were saved.

Rev. Sweeten preaches again tonight at 7:30 p. m., and continues until Friday night, and if he leaves then, the Rev. Tyrrell will continue the special meetings over Friday.

Tuesday night the Rev. Sweeten will bring a very special message on the Second Coming of Christ.

The Misses Sadie Lewis and George bring messages in song every evening, and the choir also sing every evening.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

After what happened Saturday afternoon, nothing is impossible in sports. The Cubs let the Philadelphia "A's" chisel away an eight run lead and New Castle High came out on the short end of a football game with Westinghouse. All of which proves nothing more startling than the fact that the Fourth of July comes in mid-summer.

Some of the curbstones coaches were revealing the game thoroughly Saturday night and as usual their conclusions would look good in College Humor. The boys are good at one thing, second guessing, and their second guess Saturday night was perfect. New Castle should have intercepted those forward passes and Ware should have been tackled on the five yard line. You can easily see that this would have given New Castle a 13-0 win.

Second Guessers mean nothing to a football team any more than they do to a game of drop the handkerchief, and the record stands. New Castle lost a game, but what of it? Michigan lost Saturday, so did Yale, and they're pretty good too. And not even Phil Bridenbaugh can perform miracles.

Some of the boys were all for taking steps about the affair. Drastic steps, and all that sort of thing. In this I agree with them. All of us should take steps next Saturday, but the steps should be in the direction of Franklin Field to root against Vandergrieff.

After all a winning team doesn't need cheers very badly. It is when the team is behind that a few cheers come in handy and that time is now. Scores have nothing to do with loyalty. Anybody can cheer a winner. The real enthusiast is in there rooting for the team whether they are out in front or two or three touchdowns behind.

Sunday was a day of oratory. The flood gates were loosed and from two o'clock yesterday afternoon until nine thirty last night, the downpour continued. By actual count there must have been thirty speeches in connection with Pulaski Day, and the lad who likes plenty of oratory simply revelled in it yesterday.

It was a great day however. The celebration was well planned, and well executed. The committees can be proud of their work.

Saturday night was a Welsh tea party to welcome a new minister to the city. Rev. Williams of the First Congregational. No Welsh affair would be complete without tea, and some cake that melts in your mouth, and take my word for it, it's not hard to take.

Herb Christman is back after a trip out to Lafayette, Indiana, where on Saturday he attended the game between Purdue and Michigan. It was Dad's Day at Purdue and Chris has the distinction of being the Dad of Jack Christman who plays a guard for Purdue. Just a few years ago you thought Jack Christman was a real lineman for New Castle High. Coach Phelan of Purdue thinks the same thing and the way he used to upset opposing lines here, he is now doing for the Indiana school.

N. B.—Particular attention of Bob Armstrong, Bob White and Doc Stutz is drawn to the statement that Purdue won.

"BETTER CLEANING"

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

(By Central Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The fashion pages of the New York roto sections are devoted exclusively to a recital of Hooey about what the Hoo's Hooey are wearing this fall; and in midst of all that fluff, last Sunday, sticking out like a freckle on a Folies Girl's nose, was the modest advertisement of a firm specializing in baby buggies.

What's fashionable about a baby?

EDGAR ALLEN POE

Edgar Allen Poe died 80 years ago, and the other day a group of his admirers, foregathered at the Hall of Fame and placed a laurel wreath at the foot of his bust. There wasn't a New York columnist present, and yet Poe was the progenitor of the tribe. He ran the first New York column and called it "Doings of Gotham." Being solely a literary man and lacking business acumen, he wasn't able to cash in on it.

In this connection it may be remembered that when the Hall of Fame first came into being and candidates were named for entry, Poe was at first rejected because The Worthington was "fond of his likker."

THE PASTOR RECOMMENDS:

REALIZES AMBITION

Willie Bailey, who sang in "The Vagabond King," "The White Eagle" and "New Moon," left the show business for what he calls a "mans job." He's a fireman now, attached to the engine house near his home, where, as a kid, he used to slide down the brass pole.

JEANNE EAGLES

Jeanne Eagles made a great character out of "Sadie Thompson" in Somerset Maugham's play, "Rain." Of late years she was invariably called "Sadie Thompson" or "Gin" Eagles, by the Broadway crowd. A bit temperamental and hard to handle—her father was Spanish and her mother was Irish, and the mixture became scrambled, as the mixture became scrambled, as it were—she was a talented actress and in her death the stage lost an interesting character.

She lay in her coffin in Campbell's funeral church and across Broadway, a score's throw from the chapel, her name blazed in electric lights on a theater sign and her figure flitted across the screen.

Nate Spingold, spouse of Mme. Francis, who made many a gown for poor Jeanne, expressed the sentiment of Broadway when he wrote on a wreath for her bier: "There's no Rain where you've gone, darling—only sunshine."

FOR AIRPLANE READERS

Julia Peterkin's novel, "Scarlet Sister Mary," awarded the Pulitzer prize, had sold 20,000 copies before the announcement of the prize and something like 80,000 since. A new printing brought out recently is called the "Airplane Edition," and as far as is known is the first sign that publishers have recognized the necessity of economy of weight in books for consumption by plane passengers. Although the new edition is of full 345 pages, it is as thin as an ordinary 40 or 50-page book and weighs only four ounces.

Pipe Line Worker Killed At Portersville

PORTERSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 14.—Luther L. Hudson, 41, of Salem, W. Va., employed by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company, on the construction of a pipe line between Charleston and New Castle, received injuries yesterday at Portersville, which resulted in his death in the Butler hospital a short time after. He was caught between two cars which crashed when pipe was being unloaded. His widow, Mrs. Ethel Richards Hudson, and three children survive. The body was taken to Salem yesterday.

Unnecessary Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin for relief.

Bayer Aspirin is always available, and it always helps. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

New Castle Man Says He Used Ten Herbs With Remarkable Results.

Stop wishing for health—have it! Use Ten Herbs, the famous new medicine that has helped thousands of men and women of this section back to normal health and strength, by giving them blessed relief from such health troubles as stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, and a general weak, run-down condition. If Ten Herbs has helped them, is it not reasonable to believe that it will help you? Learn more about Ten Herbs by calling at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St., this city, where this compound is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs gave me remarkable relief from my ailments and benefited my whole system, when I used it some time ago," was the recent statement of Mr. Joseph Colangelo, 410 Locust street, New Castle. "Your medicine did me so much good that I am willing to make a public statement, with the hope that all who suffer as I did, will profit by my experience and give Ten Herbs a trial."

"I was in such bad physical condition that I could hardly keep going. I had no appetite, and my stomach was badly disordered. I had gas pains most of the time. My liver was not working properly, and I was always using laxatives. At times I got terribly weak and dizzy. My kidneys caused me trouble. Day after day I had awful pains in my back. I did not sleep well at night, and when morning came I felt as tired as I did the night before. Although I spent quite a sum of money for medicines, nothing did me any good."

"Then I tried Ten Herbs, and got real relief. I became free of stomach trouble—no more gas pains. My kidneys began to function properly, and dizziness disappeared. My appetite improved, and I began to get a good night's rest. I gained in strength and no longer felt tired during the day."

"Ten Herbs gave me far-reaching results because it consists of ten wonderful natural ingredients, which really makes it ten medicines in one. It benefits and invigorates important organs, and cleanses and tones up the whole human system."

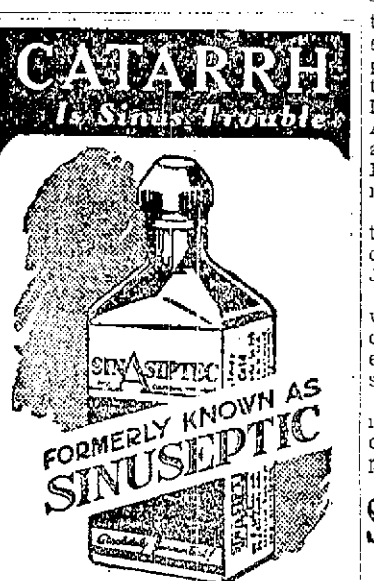

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Pittsburgh Thugs Are Quite Active

Loot Valued At $2,400 Stolen From Several Business Places Over Week-End

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—Loot valued at approximately $2,400 is the week-end total for the activities of robbers in hold-ups, automobile ransacking, safe blowing and breaking and entering, in Pittsburgh. The largest amount obtained in a single "job" was $100, taken from a taxi company when robbers held up John Newman, night watchman and rifled the cash register. The smallest haul was $1.15 when safe blowers over-looked $500 in a safe of a five-and-ten-cent store, after blowing off the outer doors of the safe.

New York Night-Clubs Exposed By Committee

Commercialized Vice In New York Spreading Through Night Club Hostess Traffic

Certain Clubs Are Respectable, Others Are Not Committee Survey Shows

By JAMES L. FULGLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The rapid and "mushroom-like growth" of speak-easies, night clubs and dance palaces, where young girls are employed as "hostesses," is blamed for the acceleration of commercialized vice in New York in a report made public today by the committee of 14.

Attractive girls lured by "Broadway" come to New York from small towns and cities all over the country and end up by becoming "hostesses" in an extremely precarious position, according to the committee. Of the hundreds of "hostesses" cases investigated, comparatively few were found to be native New York girls.

"Clandestine" Clubs

"Clandestine" clubs are popping up all over the city. Speak-easies are multiplying rapidly. More and more gilded dance halls are springing up. Practically all of these places employ hostesses, whose job it is to entertain male customers by drinking, dining and dancing with them.

Certain night clubs are perfectly respectable, as are many hostesses. But the committee's investigation of 302 night clubs and speak-easies and 908 "hostesses" disclosed, there is an increasingly heavy vice traffic being carried on and it is done so furtively and shrewdly it is difficult to combat.

"While many places call themselves 'clubs,' the name is really a subterfuge," the committee's report says.

It isn't the "big butter and egg men" from the West support these clubs. Arent this aspect of the situation, the report asserts:

"Contrary to the idea of certain fiction writers, most of the patrons of these closed door places are not wealthy old men who merely want to spend money and are satisfied with the attentions of 'gold diggers.' The majority are young men, frequently of small means."

A certain type of employment agency contributes its part by providing hostesses for the clubs. Eighty-six such agencies were investigated. Concerning this phase of the probe the committee says:

Traffic in Girls

"Sixty-eight per cent of the agencies investigated may be said to be 'shady,' and 40 per cent of the total are definitely engaged in the traffic. This is conducted by advertising for hostesses for night clubs and speak-easies and by placing girls in these places as hostesses, the fees for which are not received from the girl, but from the proprietor of the club or speak-easy."

"No previous experience on the part of the girls is required. Many of the girls came to New York with the original intention of securing some position in connection with the theater, usually as a show girl, chorus girl or dancer. Finding this field overcrowded, they become 'hostesses.'"

The committee of 14 spent $20,000 in obtaining this information. Among the contributors to the funds of the committee are John D. Rockefeller Jr., Harry Morgenthau, Adolph Lewisohn and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

Woman Succumbs To Severe Burns

Burned Severely By Furnace Blast Woman In Pittsburgh Dies In Hospital

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—The second victim of the fire which followed an explosion of the furnace in a Brierwood home last Wednesday night was claimed today with the death of Mrs. J. J. Dwyer, 52, Pittsburgh, who succumbed in a hospital here early this morning. Her daughter, Mrs. Mary Wells, 28, Brierwood, died Thursday from burns received in the same accident. The furnace exploded when the two women were preparing it for the night.

Doheny's Profit From Oil Lease Termed Enormous

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Enormous profits were realized by E. L. Doheny from the lease of Elk Hills Naval Reserve, which he negotiated from his old friend, ex-secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall, the government contended today in the trial of Fall for bribery in connection with the transaction.

Over the vigorous protest of Fall's counsel, the government put on the witness stand Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific railway, who identified a re-sale contract between Doheny's Pan-American Oil company and the Associated Oil company of which Shoup was a director. This re-sale contract of royalty oil, the government contends, was the motivating factor behind the Fall-Doheny lease, and not "patriotism," as the defense contends.

Police Officer Arrests Man On Liquor Charge

Officer Cecil Suber of the city police last night arrested F. E. Waddell, who was this morning taken before Alderman L. C. Mantz and charged with possessing and transporting liquor.

When the officer arrested Waddell he had two pints of liquor in his possession. His room was later visited and evidence of being engaged in the liquor business were found, the police say, including liquor, empty gallon glass jugs and pint and half pint bottles.

He entered a plea of guilty to the charges when taken before Alderman L. C. Mantz and has been placed in the county jail pending the disposition of his case.

Coat Week Is Here

Inviting you to view an unusual array of fur-trimmed coats in three special groups: $69.50 — $98.50 — $125.00

—At the season when new coats are imperative, it is gratifying to know that Strouss-Hirshberg's have assembled an unusual collection, important both from the style and value stand-point. Our preparations for this event (October 14 to 19) include price groups of broad range . . . making this your supreme opportunity for coat selection.

in new styles—

—A wide sweep to the neckline, suggestive of Vionnet . . . a dip in the back (that's Pacquini!) . . . low-placed flares, after Patou and Jenny's subtle princess line . . . Such charming fashion conceptions determine the chic of these coats . . . flatteringly slim and elegant in their impression.

With rich furs—

—Natural Canadian wolf, kit fox, caracul, skunk, pointed fox, Jap fox, and lynx are used luxuriously in these coats . . . making collars that flare softly in the manner of Pacquini, or widen into deep shawls. Sleeves have cuffs, or interesting swirls of fur, to increase the effect of distinction.

For many types—

—The scope of designs includes models for madame and mademoiselle, with plenty in straight line effect for those of conservative taste. Sizes range from 14 to 48, and your choice of colors is extensive. Black and penny brown are much in evidence . . . though blues and hunter's green are to be stressed.

The six coats sketched may be seen on our fashion floor and are smartly typical of the whole collection

A. Side flares make this coat extremely youthful . . . with its large fur cuffs and short shawl collar of natural wolf. $69.50.

B. Lucile Paray inspired the flared fur border of this wolf-trimmed coat . . . quite flattering to one of slender figure. $98.50.

C. Spiralling cuffs and a Pacquini shawl collar of baby lynx make this straightline coat very distinctive. $98.50.

D. Tailored tiers, in the back are an ingenious feature of this coat, which has shawl collar and cuffs of skunk. $69.50.

E. The shawl collar of the coat at the near left is extended to make an unusual skirt treatment. $125.00.

F. The swirled upward flare of this coat was suggested by Pacquini. It has pyramid cuffs and shawl collar. $125.00.

Other coat week features

—CLOTH COATS, fur-trimmed, in a complete range of styles, sizes 14 to 48, at $59.50, $79.50 and $89.50

—TWEED COATS, fur-trimmed, for travel and sports, sizes 14 to 42, at $25.00 to $49.50

—TWEED COATS, without fur, for sports and utility, sizes 14 to 42, at $16.50 to $39.50

—FUR COATS of dependable quality and workmanship, variously priced.

—RUMBLE-SEAT COATS, sizes 16 to 38, . . . $49.50

—CHINCHILLA COATS of German all-wool quality, in sizes 14 to 48, at $25.00

—RAIN-COATS, in sizes 14 to 46, fleece-lined, $5.95 and $7.95

—GIRLS' AND TOTS' COATS, in a comprehensive range of styles and prices.

Give Welcome To New Pastor

Welsh Tea Party For Rev. R. T. Williams At First Congregational Church

MUSICAL PROGRAM DURING EVENING

Rev. R. T. Williams, who has recently accepted the pastorate of the First Congregational church of this city, was given a real "Welsh Welcome" to his new charge on Saturday night, when a Welsh Tea Party was held in his honor, followed by a program of addresses and music.

Among Welsh people, no welcoming ceremony is complete without tea and cakes, and the party of Saturday evening was one that left a pleasant memory with those fortunate enough to attend. The tea and cakes were served by the women of the church, several hundred attending.

Following the tea, the crowd adjourned to the auditorium of the church where the program was presented under the direction of William J. Davies, master of ceremonies. Mr. Davies has been handling programs in the First Congregational church for so many years that any program without his leadership would seem empty. His kindly smiles at the speakers and the genuine note of sincerity that he puts into a meeting meant much to the program of Saturday evening as they have always meant much to programs he handled.

Solo by W. C. Lewis
The program opened with a solo by W. C. Lewis, a veteran of the musical world followed by a solo by Miss Bertha Taylor. Piano solos by Miss Anna Smith and a violin solo by Emerson Davies followed. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the following: Board of Deacons, Llewellyn Thomas; Board of Deacons, Mrs. Thomas Grey; Sunday school, William P. Williams; Y. M. C. C., Councilman D. O. Davies; Music Committee, James Taylor; Trustees, James G. Davies; Primary Department, Miss Ethel Thomas.

Griff Thomas pleased with a reading and was followed by a solo by Miss Morris Davis and one by Evan Hopkins. Mrs. John Hopkins Evans was the accompanist of the evening. Visiting ministers who spoke, were Rev. Porter of the Central Christian, Rev. Childs of the Emmanuel Baptist, and Rev. Tyrrel of the Primitive Methodist.

In reply to the many nice things said about him, Rev. Williams expressed the hope that the church would prosper, that the people would co-operate with him in the affairs of the church, and that his ministry here would be productive of results.

While he is young in years, Rev. Williams has already made an impression upon the people of the South Side with his ability. He comes here from Bangor, Pa., and was called by the First Congregational church after the members had heard him preach.

Antoine Volkoff, former consul general of the Russian government in Chicago, above, is now a drug store clerk. The overthrow of the czarist government more than a decade ago by the Soviets stranded him. However, he is recognized by the state department at Washington as the "unofficial official consul general." The Soviet has no representative, the czarist rule is dead, yet Volkoff handles affairs of his countrymen in Chicago.

JOHN N. EUWER DIES IN PARIS

Born in New Castle; Lived in Youngstown For Many Years

John Nelson Euwer, aged 52, a native of Lawrence county, and a member of one of the pioneer families of this district, died Friday at his home in Paris, France, where he had resided for some years, of pneumonia, according to the message received here by Mrs. Lee Gordon of North Mercer street and other relatives.

Mr. Euwer was born here, the son of Walter D. and Anna Euwer. He went to Youngstown as a small boy, graduated from Rayen high school and attended Princeton University.

He entered business with his father, following graduation and was appointed manager of the John N. Euwer's Sons Store which was then located on West Federal street, Youngstown.

Two times led to the removal of the store to three floors of the present Stanbaugh building. With the discontinuing of this business, Mr. Euwer became associated with A. Powers Smith in the automobile business. At the outbreak of the World War, Mr. Euwer enlisted and served in France as a member of the Y. M. C. A. corps. After the war, he married Suzanne Campan of Bourges, France. He conducted a business on Rue De La Paix in Paris.

Besides his wife, Mr. Euwer leaves three children, two sisters, Arabella Euwer of Paris, and Mrs. Marion Patterson of Cleveland, O., and one brother Walter C. Euwer of Washington, D. C.

Dysart Reports On Sickafuse Blaze

Solicitor Robert White today referred a report of Inspector Henry Dysart to council, relative to a Norris way fire which it was alleged had destroyed the Sickafuse building which housed oil and tires belonging to Frank Dewberry.

It was alleged that the department of streets employees had dumped rubbish against the building in Norris way and that it had become ignited. The flames communicated to the building with the destruction of contents.

Sickafuse has asked for $200 owing to the burning of the building and Dewberry wants 50 cents a gallon for 150 gallons of oil, $3 each for 70 drums and also the cost of 15 used tires and one new tire.

INDICTED MAN IS CAUGHT BY POLICE

James Fields, indicted several months ago on a charge of violating the Snyder act, was last night picked up by Officers Gollis and Hagan in the Seventh ward district. He was turned over to the sheriff and will now be required to face trial on the indictment made several months ago. It will be remembered that when his place was visited last March by Lieutenant Hillers and other officers that Fields was very busy for a time assisting the officers in hunting liquor but that when they got close to the place where the liquor was found under some coal Fields said he had to go upstairs and jumped from a window of the second floor and escaped. He has been sought ever since.

Seeks To Break An Alleged Will

Testimony Being Heard Before Judge Chamber On W.
A. Munnell Will

Testimony is being taken before Judge Chambers today in a controversy over the will of the late W. A. Munnell of Volant. The case came before a jury on a precept from Register and Recorder, Jeannette Hutten, before whom an alleged will of Munnell was offered for probate. Olive Aggrass, a daughter of the decedent, is plaintiff in the case and W. B. Munnell and Mary B. Lockhart, are defendants. Incompetency to make a will, by reason of illness, is alleged. Testimony is being offered to show the mental condition of Mr. Munnell at the time the alleged will was made.

ELLWOOD CITY HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS BEAVER FALLS 37-13

Sensational Work Results In Third Victory For Blue
And White

By TONY PASTA
(Special News Correspondent)

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 14.—A Blue and White tornado representing the Ellwood City High School continued its winning streak Saturday by rushing the Beaver Falls football team off their feet with a score of 37-13 on the local lot.

Revenge was sweet for Puck Lee's warriors who suffered a 26-0 defeat last year at the hands of the Tigers.

Never before was a game played with more thrilling runs and passes. Justine made the most beautiful run of the day when he dashed 81 yards to score just before the close of the half. This occurred after he had already run thirty five yards to score the first goal of the contest. King played the best game of his career with his continuous line plunging sometimes tearing through the entire line for twenty to thirty yards. Postin came to the limelight and gave a very good account of himself on both the offense and defense.

Beaver Falls Outplayed
It was an ideal day for the battle and Ellwood made the best of it by outplaying the opponent in almost every department. The Tubers scored twice as many first downs and most of these were through the line. The blue and white played straight football and kept ramming the line but the Tubers were not able to gain in this manner and were forced to the air route. Both of their goals were scored by long passes, the first netting 56 yards from Tachovsky to Gibson and the second from Gibson to Tachovsky. Coach Heckathorne's eleven was effective in tossing the oval.

Beaver Falls got a break in the third period when Justine was taken from the game because of slugging Gibson. The fighting half-back for the Tubers lost his patience and paid for it by being taken out of the battle. It is asserted that Gibson did something when he tackled Justine. Neither team suffered a great deal from penalties with the exception of the thirty yard handoff given Ellwood when Justine was taken out. There was one sad part of the victory for Ellwood. Benny Rocco, a veteran guard, was hurt and may be out for sometime. He cracked one rib and it will depend upon how fast this heals in order that he may see service again.

Games Starts
Ellwood kicked off to the thirty five yard line. On the first play Ryan collected two yards but Moore was able to get only one of the next as he rushed in and stopped him. Tachovsky hit the line and the game followed. Tachovsky started a first and Pastin started off again with two. A five yard penalty on Ellwood followed. Justine and King gained about eight and on the next move the latter fumbled but recovered. Justine then punted to the Tubers 32 yard line.

Tachovsky and Ryan netted a first down. After Moore lost three and a five yard penalty the delaying game followed. Tachovsky started a first and Pastin started off again with two. A five yard penalty on Ellwood followed. Justine and King gained about eight and on the next move the latter fumbled but recovered. Justine then punted to the Tubers 32 yard line.

Tachovsky and Ryan netted a first down. After Moore lost three and a five yard penalty the delaying game followed. Tachovsky started a first and Pastin started off again with two. A five yard penalty on Ellwood followed. Justine and King gained about eight and on the next move the latter fumbled but recovered. Justine then punted to the Tubers 32 yard line.

This time Beaver Falls kicked off to the thirty five yard line. On the first play Ryan collected two yards but Moore was able to get only one of the next as he rushed in and stopped him. Tachovsky hit the line and the game followed. Tachovsky started a first and Pastin started off again with two. A five yard penalty on Ellwood followed. Justine and King gained about eight and on the next move the latter fumbled but recovered. Justine then punted to the Tubers 32 yard line.

The first quarter ended with the King punted and on the first play McCullough tore through for a first as he gained twenty yards on an end run. Tachovsky made two and a pass from Gibson to him netted a first down.

Beaver Falls Scores
Again the Heckathorne machine showed their skill in passing by tossing a long one from Gibson to Moore. Moore ran twenty yards to score after he had caught the oval. A pass from Gibson to Morris netted the extra point. The game ended a few seconds later after the Tubers kicked off to Ellwood's forty and Pastin accepted. He also made five yards on the first play as the whistle brought the contest to a close.

This victory makes a total of three for the blue and white warriors. Saturday was a well earned one. A number of Lee's men showed improvement in their playing. Pastin for instance, played much better and was outstanding in the backfield work. In the line Wehman and Rocco were a continual menace to the furious Tubers. Time after time these lads rushed the enemy to throw them for a loss. In fact the entire Ellwood line was charging low and hard and did not shrink against a heavier foe.

Coach Heckathorne's machine seemed strong in the first quarter, but seemed to lose their power and energy in the second stanza of the first half. The blue and white's heavy attack was too much for them. Tachovsky, who showed up so well against Montaca last Saturday was not able to pierce the Tubers line and neither were his companions. Had it not been for an aerial attack the Beaver Valley lads may not have scored a single touchdown. Gibson was an outstanding performer for the visitors. His tosses were straight and true. His punting was also good. Rimbey and Fleeson showed up well in the defense.

Lee's eleven seem to be in excellent shape. Not a single substitution was used by the blue and white until the last few minutes of the first half. By this time the Beaver Valley team had sent in several to replace the tired and ragged. McCullough, a Beaver Falls substitute who replaced Ryan, proved to be a valuable one and made several gains in spite of his low weight. Before the beginning of the game it was thought that King would not start because of an injured leg but he seemed to forget it after the contest got under way. It is thought that he is not hurt and there is no doubt that it troubled him.

A large crowd attended Saturday's contest as all bleachers were filled and a large crowd of rooters turned out for both eleven. The cheering was good and at the half the Beaver Falls band with their flashy uniforms marched before the Ellwood side and played several selections.

Next Saturday another home game will be played when Langley High of Pittsburgh comes here. It is thought that Ellwood should add this eleven to their list of victories.

Pastin and King netted a first. Frisk skirted through for another and on the next play Gross crossed the line for Ellwood's last score. King made an attempt to run through for the extra point but failed. Ellwood kicked off to the opponent's who ran it to the 43 yard line. Gibson gained five but this was lost as eight and King followed with another five yard penalty followed. Tachovsky first down. Ellwood was penalized five and after King had ripped off six yards Fleeson intercepted a pass on the next play. On the first play 37. Pastin gained eight and King Ryan gained three but when he ran again Neft and Rocco rushed in and threw him for a seven yard loss.

Knights Of Malta Enjoy Meeting In Erie Saturday

Local Lodge To Combine With
New Castle For Conferring
Of Red Cross Degree
Later

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 14.—A large number of Local Knights of Malta motored to Erie Saturday to the Abraham Lincoln commandary of that city. They were entertained by a Fish Fry at 6:30 after which they witnessed the conferring of the Black degree upon a class of candidates. The business meeting was followed by a booster meeting with the following commandaries comprising the Penn-Ohio federation: Two from Erie, Meadville, Franklin, Greenville, Sharon, New Castle and Ellwood City in Pennsylvania and the following Ohio commandaries: Conneaut, Youngstown, East Palestine, Gerard and Niles.

The local knights report that New Castle and Ellwood City Commandaries will have the honor of conferring the highest degree, that of Red Cross, this year at New Castle.

The next meeting of the federation takes place at Sharon the second week in November.

Mr. And Mrs. Clark Celebrate Their 30th Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Clark of the Ellwood-New Castle road returned yesterday from Leechburg, Pa. While there as guests of the latter's cousin, Mrs. James Walters, they celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary. ENTIRE NORMAN STOCK OF DIAMONDS

25% Off The Regular Plainly Marked Norman Prices

We need not tell you that it is very unusual for jewelers to cut the prices on diamonds, especially quality diamonds with quality guarantees back of them like Norman Diamonds, or like any diamond you purchase anywhere from S. H. DeRoy & Co., operating six large stores in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania, with a reputation of 77 years behind them. Diamonds do not depreciate in value, but S. H. DeRoy & Company as successors to Norman, want all the friends and customers they can get before the holiday rush. Therefore it is only natural that they should use the enormous sacrifice at which they bought the Norman stocks to give you values which will induce you to OPEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT AT ONCE.

ANNIVERSARY
IS CELEBRATED

Rev. W. W. Nelson Is Given Purse On Seventh Anniversary Of Pastorate

Rev. W. W. Nelson, pastor of the Second Baptist church expresses his thanks to the members and friends of his parish for their expressions of kindness and appreciations shown to himself and family in his seventh pastoral anniversary.

On Friday evening, October 11, a surprise party of nearly forty of the members visited the parsonage, bringing with them a grocery shower, things too numerous to mention.

On Sunday the church was beautifully decorated with palms and fall flowers. Dr. S. A. Jordan of Jenkintown, Pa., delivered the first sermon of the day at 11 a. m.

At 3 p. m. Dr. S. P. Phillips of Youngstown preached the anniversary sermon. He was accompanied by his choir, and some of his members. At this time the pastor was presented a purse.

At 7:30 p. m. a program was given by talent of the church, while seven candles burned on a side table, adding beauty to the occasion.

The day closed with an offering of $100.18.

Discourage Criticism Of Teacher

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

A favorite place for the child to tell about the things he doesn't like at school is at the dinner table. The teacher often is the center of his criticism.

We parents may be inclined to be indignant at the child's remarks at other times, but our duty is to encourage him to talk about "injustices" at school. Encouraged by our attention, the young critic goes on very freely, decorating his account to suit his fancy and convenience.

Furthermore, we are inclined to let our own emotions run riot by our approving looks. We do more to emphasize his condemnation, even dwelling on some "revels" of the school that he has never thought about.

Suppose we do believe in such a fashion when our child complains about the teacher and the school. He soon begins to think himself abused; his teacher is his enemy. He learns to hate his work at school and dreads to go. His home work is despised and learning has but little lure for him. He has good reason now to earn low grades, and if he fails he knows that he will have to offer no excuse; his ability already has been framed.

Fond parents that we are, we are prone always to assume that what our youngsters say is true, that whereas other people's children may be untruthful at school ours could do no wrong, and that we are injured and dishonored by the "wrong" which they report. Our human frailties make us ready to pass judgments and to give opinions right away upon the flimsiest facts, even when we realize the evidence is not complete.

You and I know very well that at such times the temptation to do injury to our child and to the school is overwhelming, and that unless by thinking through the dangers which confront us and by building up resistance to our human inclinations, we make a shameful error by our utterance or by the way we act.

Suppose right there we lend approval to the criticism of the child; suppose we interrupt to scold about the school. Suppose in anger we should go to the school next day to abuse the teacher. In that event we shall have demonstrated lack of self-control; we shall have set our sanction upon tattling and gossip; we shall have lost the opportunity to teach fairness, moral judgment, and good thinking.

If we are sensible, next time our child complains about his school and teacher, we shall listen patiently and let him go on so long as he is courteous in his remarks. Then, as soon as possible, we shall turn him tactfully to another subject. If we really think there are some wrongs at school which can be righted, we shall, after waiting patiently for a couple of days, go calmly to the school and talk things over with the teacher.

Tomorrow: Worried Mothers.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Reed Is Against Let-Down On Books

Pennsylvania Senator Opposed To Change Which Would Lessen Present Stringency

By ARTHUR WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—Senator David Reed is opposed to the amendment added to the tariff bill which alters the present law to make less rigid the prohibition against the importation of literature into this country.

Senator Reed was one of the 36 democrats and republicans who voted against the amendment when it was passed by a vote of 38 to 36.

The amendment strikes from the present law the provision barring the importation of books held by customs officials to be of an immoral nature and alters the existing federal statute so as to permit the entry of all literature except that advocating forcible resistance to law and containing threats on the life of American citizens.

Youth, 16, Dies From Rifle Shot

ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 14.—That George Schaub, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schaub, 1018 Midland avenue, Midland, ended his life by suicide was the finding of Coroner H. C. McCarter after an investigation.

The youth, shot through the forehead, was brought to the hospital here where he died three hours later.

Authorities learned the youth, following a quarrel with an older brother, had gone to his room and shot himself in the head with a 22-caliber rifle. It was at first reported the shooting was accidental.

Fat Folks now not urged to Starve

Countless people now reduce without starving. You see them everywhere—slender, vigorous and youthful. They combated the cause of excess fat, which usually lies in an under-active gland.

Modern physicians, in treating obesity, feed the lacking substance. The chief factors they use are embodied in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous laboratory. So all may use this modern method at small cost.

For 22 years Marmola has held its high place as a remedy for fat. Users have told others about it, until millions of boxes have been taken. That is one great reason why excess fat is far less common now.

Try the method which has helped so many. In each box of Marmola you will find the formula, also the scientific reasons for all good results. Go now and learn how much new beauty, youth and vigor it can bring to you.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

CIGARETTE FIGHTING.
Somewhere in Ohio a movement has started which seeks to have all cigarette packages labeled with skull and crossbones. Congress is to be asked to treat cigarettes as poison and labeled accordingly. This kind of fighting is a waste of power. With so many heavier evils confronting mankind with so many things in this interesting world worth fighting against, why bother with tobacco? And doubtless as many people are seriously hurt by over-eating as over-smoking. Others are hurt by over-worry about trivial matters—such as smoking.

A MODEL WASHINGTON.
Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists ought to be interested in the experiment of "cleaning up Washington." Whatever one may think of the Volstead act it is logical that the capital of the nation is the proper place in which to try out enforcement to the limit. If the rest of the country is to obey the law, Washington should show the way. Let federal and local authorities get together and try the experiment of giving us a model city.

President Hoover once called prohibition a noble experiment. The capital is the place to try it out in detail.

DRINKING WET, VOTING DRY.
The Anti-Saloon League and other prohibition organizations properly condemn citizens who drink wet and vote dry. Perhaps the league shouldn't be so hard on such voters. The chances are that if it hadn't been for the wets who voted dry we shouldn't have even as much prohibition as there is today.

NERVES.
If you find yourself putting things off without any good reason for putting them off and if you dread even small and easy tasks your nerves need rest, need smoothing out. The habit of procrastination is one of the surest signs of nervous exhaustion. Normal nerves are tuned for the day's work. They are fresh every morning. If you get up tired in the morning don't pity yourself and imagine you are working hard. You have probably tired your nerves out by worry.

The best cure is to study astronomy for three-quarters of an hour each evening—learning how little the earth really is and how much littler man and how few things really matter.

Stunt Flier Killed In Drop Of 50 Feet

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 14.—John H. (Ike) Stewart, 38, Cincinnati pilot, was killed Sunday when his plane crashed on the Huntington airfield at Chesapeake, O., across the Ohio river from Huntington.

Stewart's motor coupe sport model plane fell from an altitude of only approximately 50 feet while he was endeavoring to perform a barrel roll in connection with a stunt program being presented at the field.

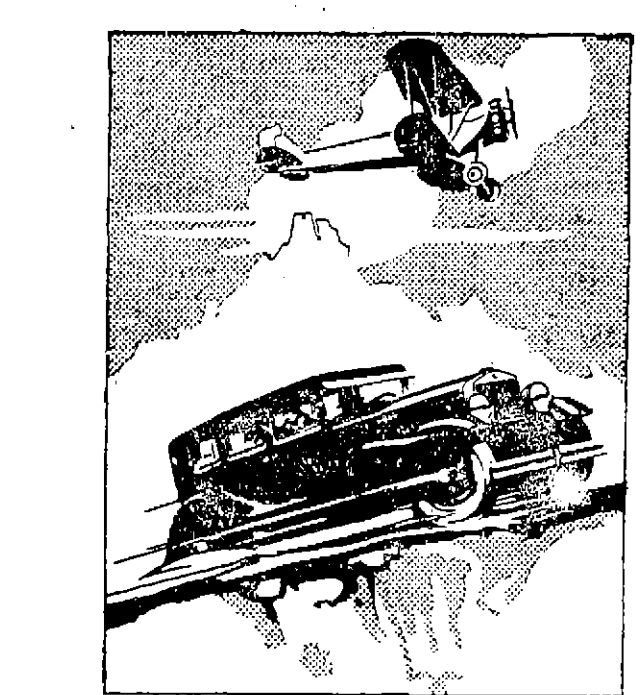

Lewis B. Stone, resident manager of the field, was describing the stunt over a public address system when the plane crashed. The plane had been rolled over and was upside down when it faltered and plunged to the ground.

Jumper Is Killed In 'Chute' Leap

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, O., Oct. 14.—While a crowd of 1,000 persons, including his mother, looked on, Ester E. Boyer, 24, of this city fell to his death near here yesterday when a parachute failed to open after he jumped from an airplane at an aerial circus.

Boyer was known in aviation circles as "Jumping Joe."

Will Hold Exams For New Postmaster In Mercer Borough Soon

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—The United States civil service will hold an examination in the near future for the purpose of selecting applicants eligible to be appointed postmaster at Mercer, the postoffice department announces.

No definite date for the examination has been established as yet but will be announced soon at Mercer.

The civil service commission will present to the postoffice department the names of the three persons passing the examination with the highest ratings, and from this list Congress-man Thomas C. Cochran of Mercer will select a new postmaster for the city.

Dunham Barton, the present postmaster, resigned recently.

Hearse Shot At In Liquor Hunt

CHESTERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Two men, one wearing a uniform similar to that of the customs border patrol, held up a hearse bearing the bodies of two automobile accident victims Sunday and searched it for liquor after firing three shots, one of which found its mark in the automobile. They apologized when shown the bodies.

Hamilton McCrea, agent in charge of the customs border patrol at Champlain, classed the men as hijackers, explaining that no border patrolmen had been near Chestertown during the night.

Kills His Nephew, Asleep In Bed

STUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 14.—Charged with the murder of his nephew, John Janoski, 8, at his home in Bradley, O., Andrew Janoski, 39, miner, was committed to the Jefferson county jail here. The arrest was ordered by Coroner A. L. Bell after an investigation.

Andrew told Sheriff William Yost that he and his brother, Jess Janoski, who live in adjoining houses, had trouble and he fired one shot; the bullet went through the wall into the brother's house and killed the boy, who was asleep in bed.

Relatives claimed the shooting was an accident.

Snake-Fancier, Bitten By Rattler Dies From Wound

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 14.—The bite of a rattlesnake yesterday proved fatal to Colonel Charles W. Cramer, 53, prominent as a criminal lawyer, nationally known herpetologist and veteran of two wars. He was bitten at his country home in the Cheat mountains and died at a local hospital.

While transferring snakes from one cage to another at his estate on Saturday afternoon, one of the rattlers escaped, and in attempting to capture it, Cramer was struck on the palm of the hand.

The herpetologist slashed the wound with a razor blade and sucked the blood, after which he applied a solution to cauterize the wound. Entering his automobile, Cramer then raced to Morgantown, a distance of 12 miles. Arriving here he went to a drug store where he had caused a stock of anti-venin to be placed. A physician was summoned and the serum injected, but to no avail. Cramer dying 12 hours later.

Canadian Vessel Grounds, Report Passengers Safe

New Five Million Dollar Liner Is Damaged By Hitting Rocks
Near British Columbia

(International News Service)
VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 14.—After wandering from its course in a heavy fog, the liner Empress of Canada today was hard aground on the aged rocks at Albert head, eight miles from here.

Ninety-six first class passengers aboard the liner were taken safely ashore while the crew of 200 remained to work with the salvage vessels which prepared this morning to float the vessel.

The liner is a $5,000,000 ship belonging to the Canadian Pacific railroad and was just completing a special cruise across the Atlantic and through the Panama canal.

More than 150 feet of the ship's bow is believed damaged by the crash with the rocks. Capt. Edward Aik-man of Vancouver, superintendent of the railroad's ocean steamships, estimated the damage to the ship at $200,000.

ATHLETICS MAY END BIG SERIES THIS AFTERNOON

to miss his fly balls in something else. Hack lost two of them in the sun on Saturday, whereas today was dark and overcast with more than a hint of impending rain.

At 1:10 o'clock a police guard of honor formed a line through which the president and his party were to pass on their way to the box reserved for them.

Howard Ehmke, winner of the first game, began warming up at this point.
Malone doing likewise for Chicago.
It looked as though they were to be the pitching choices for this all-critical game.

Show Down Meeting

This game figured to be well worth his visit. It was to be the showdown meeting between a pair of clubs that were ordained to fight this one to the last gasping breath.—The Athletics supreme in the confidence bred of Saturday's amazing victory, the Cubs unsundered and white with the grim intensity of their emotions.

They were to stake their all on the pitching of Pat Malone, who to-date has been in two ball games without winning either of them. But the Cubs figured Patrick for a winner just the same and made their bets accordingly. They had little choice, at that, Guy Bush, the lone Cub winner of the series, being the only alternative.

Macks Keep Silent.

Connie Mack's plans, as usual, were as clear as a stained glass window.
He could pitch Howard Ehmke, the first game winner. He could reply with George Earnshaw, who won the second game in collaboration with Lefty Grove and lost the third, strictly on his own. And Mack could pitch Grove himself.

The latter had fanned ten Cubs in 31-3 scoreless innings to date, yet his selection for today's game was deemed unlikely. The answer that Grove cannot pitch more than five innings without leaving the first two fingers of his pitching hand raw and bleeding from contact with the ball. Grove it seems, is one of those sensitive boys who bruise so easily.

Any how, he appears to be cast in the role of vigilant rescuer for this series. Earnshaw, therefore, was the natural choice for the game. Being that it is better to have pitched and lost than never to have pitched at all, Friday's defeat can well be forgotten particularly since Earnshaw would have won that game almost seven days in every week.

The dual attraction produced by the visit of the president to this critical game of the series had the townfolk very acid over the proceedings. They stormed their way into the unreserved section, after outwailing the night at the park gates, and obliterated its seating capacity in less than tops on Twenty-first street also were sold within an inch of the saturation point.

The Athletics were out there at 11:30 o'clock frolicking in gay anticipation of the victory they were so certain about. The feature of their practice was a pair of tremendous wells over the roof of the stands inter, by Jimmy Foxx on successive attempts. The Cubs came out of their dug-out shortly after noon and many of them stood about, glovering at
th. Athletics as they came to the plate. The Cubs' pre-game attitude left nothing to the imagination. It plainly said that, if they were to die today, they meant to do it with their boots on and their spikes flashing defiantly high.

FIRST INNING—Chicago. McMillan up; McMillan out, Dykes to Foxx.
English up; strike 1, called; ball 1 wide; English singled down the third base line. It was a slow roller which could not be fielded in time. Hornsby up; strike 1, missed; ball 1, wide;
Hornsby out on a pop fly to Foxx.
The ball accidentally hit Hornsby's bat and a puny fly resulted. Wilson up; strike 1, called; strike 2, called;
ball 1, wide; English out trying to steal second, Cochrane to Bishop.
No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

FIRST INNING—Philadelphia.
Bishop up; strike 1, called; ball 1 wide; ball 2, wide; strike 2 called; strike 3, Bishop fanned. Haas up; ball 1, wide; ball 2, inside. Haas out on a fly to Stevenson. Cochrane up; strike 1, called; ball 1, high. Cochrane out on a great fly, English to Grimm.
It was a slow bouncer that hopped over Malone's head and English reached over in front of second for a fine stop. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING—Chicago. Wilson up; Wilson singled to left on the first ball pitched. Cuyler up; Cuyler forced Wilson at second, Ehmke to Boley.
Stephenson up; strike 1, called; ball
1, wide; ball 2, wide. Cuyler out.
Ehmke to Foxx to Boley to Cochrane.
He broke for second while Ehmke was holding the ball, Cochrane making the putout at first after the run down.
Strike 2, called; ball 3, wide; ball 4
low. Stephenson walked. Grimm up; Grimm out to Foxx unassisted. No runs, 1 hit, no errors, 1 left.

SECOND INNING—Philadelphia.
Simmons up; strike 1, called; ball 1 high; Simmons singled to left. Foxx up; strike 1, called; ball 1, wide; Foxx out on a line drive to Hornsby and Simmons double at first, Hornsby to Grimm. Hornsby made a one handed catch of the drive. Miller up;
strike 1, foul; ball 1, low; strike 2, called; Miller out, McMillan to Grimm. No runs, 1 hit, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING—Chicago—Taylor up; strike 1, foul; ball 1, wide; ball 2, wide; Taylor out, Cochrane unassisted. It was a tap that rolled into a foot from the plate and Cochrane made the putout while Taylor stood in the box. Malone up; strike 1, called; ball 1, low; strike 2, missed;

ball 2, wide; ball 3, high; Malone doubled down the right field line; Mc-Millan up; strike 1, called; strike 2, missed; Malone took third while Boley was throwing McMillan out at first. English up; English out on a running catch by Miller near the foul line. No runs, 1 hit, no errors; 1 left.

THIRD INNING—Philadelphia.
Dykes up; strike 1 called; strike 2 foul, ball 1, wide; Dykes out on a fine running catch by English in short left. Boley up; ball 1 wide, strike 1 called, Boley out, English to Grimm.
Ehmke up; Ehmke out on a line drive to Cuyler. No runs, no hits, no errors,
none left.

FOURTH INNING—Chicago—
Hornsby up; ball 1, low; strike 1,
none left.

FOURTH—Philadelphia. Bishop up; ball 1, wide; strike 1, called; ball
2, wide; strike 2, foul; ball 3, high.

Children Confess to Ghastly Crime

John Mulligan, eight, left, with his brother, James, seven, and Detective Sergeant Henry J. Gallbrunner. The two boys, orphaned have confessed to the killing of three-year-old Albert Mikenas at Milford, Ct., last July. It was believed at the time that Mikenas was attacked by some feeble-minded person because of the mutilated condition of the body. Police declare it was the work of a powerful man but they are inclined to accept the Mulligan boys' story.

FASHIONS WORLD'S LARGEST LENS

What is expected to be the world's largest reflecting telescope lens is being constructed by C. W. Woodworth, professor of entomology at the University of California, in his own back yard, at Berkeley.
He is shown here putting in place four of the 400 small lenses which will make up its composite surface. The professor who already has spent two years upon it and needs another for its completion, grinds all lenses with a special apparatus which he designed. The idea of a composite lens has been scouted by scientists as impossible of achievement, but Prof. Woodworth believes he has solved all difficulties.

$25,000 Prize For Land Plane Speed

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 14.—Speed is the thing. Especially in French aviation.
Louis Bleriot, hero of the first English Channel flight, Laurent Eynac, minister of air, Pierre Flandrin, president of the French Aero Club, all say France will hold the speed record of the world before the next Schneider

Cup—if they have anything to do with it.

Bleriot has offered a $25,000 prize for the fastest time in a land plane.

He says there is no reason why more than 600 miles an hour cannot be done aboard a plane.

Air Minister Eynac says he will aid
all he can in pushing the construction of fast land planes.

Flandrin assures that he is in hopes of offering a cup for the fastest plane.
It seems to be up to the constructors as there are many French pilots just "rarin' to go".

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story Of The World War
139—Arming The American Forces

DURING THE WORLD WAR A GREAT PART OF THE WAR MATERIALS USED BY THE ALLIES WAS MADE IN AMERICA. WHEN THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE STRUGGLE OUR GUN FACTORIES AND MUNITION PLANTS WERE HARD PUT TO MEET THE INCREASED DEMAND. OUR MOST URGENT PROBLEM WAS TO OBTAIN RIFLES FOR THE NEW NATIONAL ARMY. THE RIFLE USED BY THE UNITED STATES ARMY WAS THE SPRINGFIELD.

WITH THE SPRINGFIELD RIFLES ON HAND IN OUR ARSENALS AND THOSE THAT COULD BE TURNED OUT BY THE GOVERNMENT ARMORIES WORKING DAY AND NIGHT, WE COULD ARM A MILLION MEN, BUT THERE WAS AN IMMEDIATE NEED FOR A MUCH GREATER NUMBER OF RIFLES. MUCH PRECIOUS TIME WOULD BE CONSUMED IN ENLARGING THE ARMORIES AND TRAINING EXTRA WORKMEN.

JUST AT THIS TIME A LARGE AMERICAN FIRM HAD COMPLETED A CONTRACT TO MANUFACTURE ENFIELD RIFLES FOR THE BRITISH, AND WAS PREPARED TO TURN OUT ARMS FOR THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. UNFORTUNATELY, ITS MACHINERY COULD PRODUCE ONLY THE BRITISH TYPE RIFLE, AND THE SPRINGFIELD CARTRIDGES WOULD NOT FIT IN THE ENFIELD.

THE SITUATION WAS DESPERATE, BUT AMERICAN INGENUITY PROVED EQUAL TO THE EMERGENCY. OUR ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT EXPERTS SOLVED THE PROBLEM BY CHANGING THE BORE OF THE ENFIELD TO TAKE THE SPRINGFIELD AMMUNITION. AFTER ONLY A SLIGHT DELAY, THE GUN FACTORIES WERE HUMMING ONCE MORE AND AN ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF RIFLES WAS ASSURED.

Westinghouse High Defeats New Castle 20-13

Joe Ware Features With 95-Yard Dash, Locals Outguessed

New Castle High School Football Team Defeated First Time In Two Years; Fumbles Costly To Bridenbaugh Machine; Ware's 95-Yard Trot For Touchdown Is Sensational Feature; Alexander Scores Two Touchdowns For New Castle; Visitors Have Fine Defense And Flashy Offensive Attack. Crowd Of 6,500 At Game. "Breaks" Go Against Locals.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

SMART, well-trained Westinghouse High School football team strode off Franklin Field late Saturday afternoon, with a 20 to 13 victory chalked up to their credit. New Castle High beaten for the first time in two years, was stunned at the unexpected blow. It was a just verdict that the Pittsburgh eleven carried back home with them. A crowd of 6,500 fans witnessed the game, which was played under perfect weather conditions.

Westinghouse High took advantage of every "break" of the game to score touchdowns. New Castle fumbled repeatedly and almost always a Blue and Gold player would emerge with the ball. The visitors had a fine well-balanced team. The line was strong, and the backfield shifty. New Castle played good football, but was outguessed and outplayed by the Burton coached machine.

Joe Ware, a colored halfback provided the sensational feature of the game in the early part of the fourth quarter when he took a punt from "Red" McIntosh on the Westinghouse 5-yard line and behind almost perfect interference ran a distance of 95 yards for a touchdown. He skirted along the left side of the field and hugged the line. He soon outdistanced the New Castle tacklers, and with a companion smoothing out the way, made his feet do a double shuffle as he trotted in the direction of the goal. It was one of the neatest and best executed runs seen at Franklin Field since Tommy Harper's run against Youngstown East, three years ago.

Fumbles Are Costly
The New Castle team looked anything but impressive as they made fifteen first downs to three for Westinghouse, and yet failed to get anywhere. Costly fumbles spelled doom for the Bridenbaugh team. It was not the same fighting New Castle team that came back to give Allegheny a trimmings last week. Something was lacking. The red and black team was evidently off color, but don't misconstrue this as meaning that Westinghouse was not good, because the Silver Lakers played a whole game, and were alert every minute.

As early as the first quarter it was quite evident that New Castle was going to have a healthy battle on their hands if they hoped to add that fourth victory to the register. The Westinghouse team held together in the face of a touchdown in the first quarter. New Castle took the ball at the kickoff and rushed it to the 10-yard line almost before the visitors knew what was happening. Hannon ran wild going around end for 27 yards, and Thomas and Alexander hammered away at the line for several first downs in rapid order.

Locals Get "Tough Break" in the first quarter, that cost them a touchdown that might have tied the score at 20-20, who knows. Anyhow, the New Castle team had the ball on the 10-yard line and was going strong. Hannon sought to cross-up the invaders by heaving a forward pass, and DeMuccio at right-end was designated to receive it. The ball was thrown perfectly, and DeMuccio grabbed it out of the "zone" although but in his over-anxiousness to make good the touchdown, stepped out of the end-zone, and Westinghouse was given the ball on the 20-yard line.

Had New Castle registered that first touchdown, the Westinghouse team would probably have lost a little taste and New Castle might have put over one that really counted in the first quarter, but "luck" was not siding with the sons of Pa. New Castle had the ball on the 22-yard line as the first quarter closed. The score was 0-0. New Castle lost the ball on a fumble in the closing minutes of the first quarter and regained it again when Westinghouse was forced to kick.

Alexander Goes Over
McAuley heaved a pass to Dick Thomas that placed the ball on the 3-yard line soon after the second quarter started it was a different pass, pass that was neatly executed by two players. An Alexander was over the line for a touchdown. McAuley's pass to Thomas for the extra-point was good. New Castle had a lead of 7 to 0.

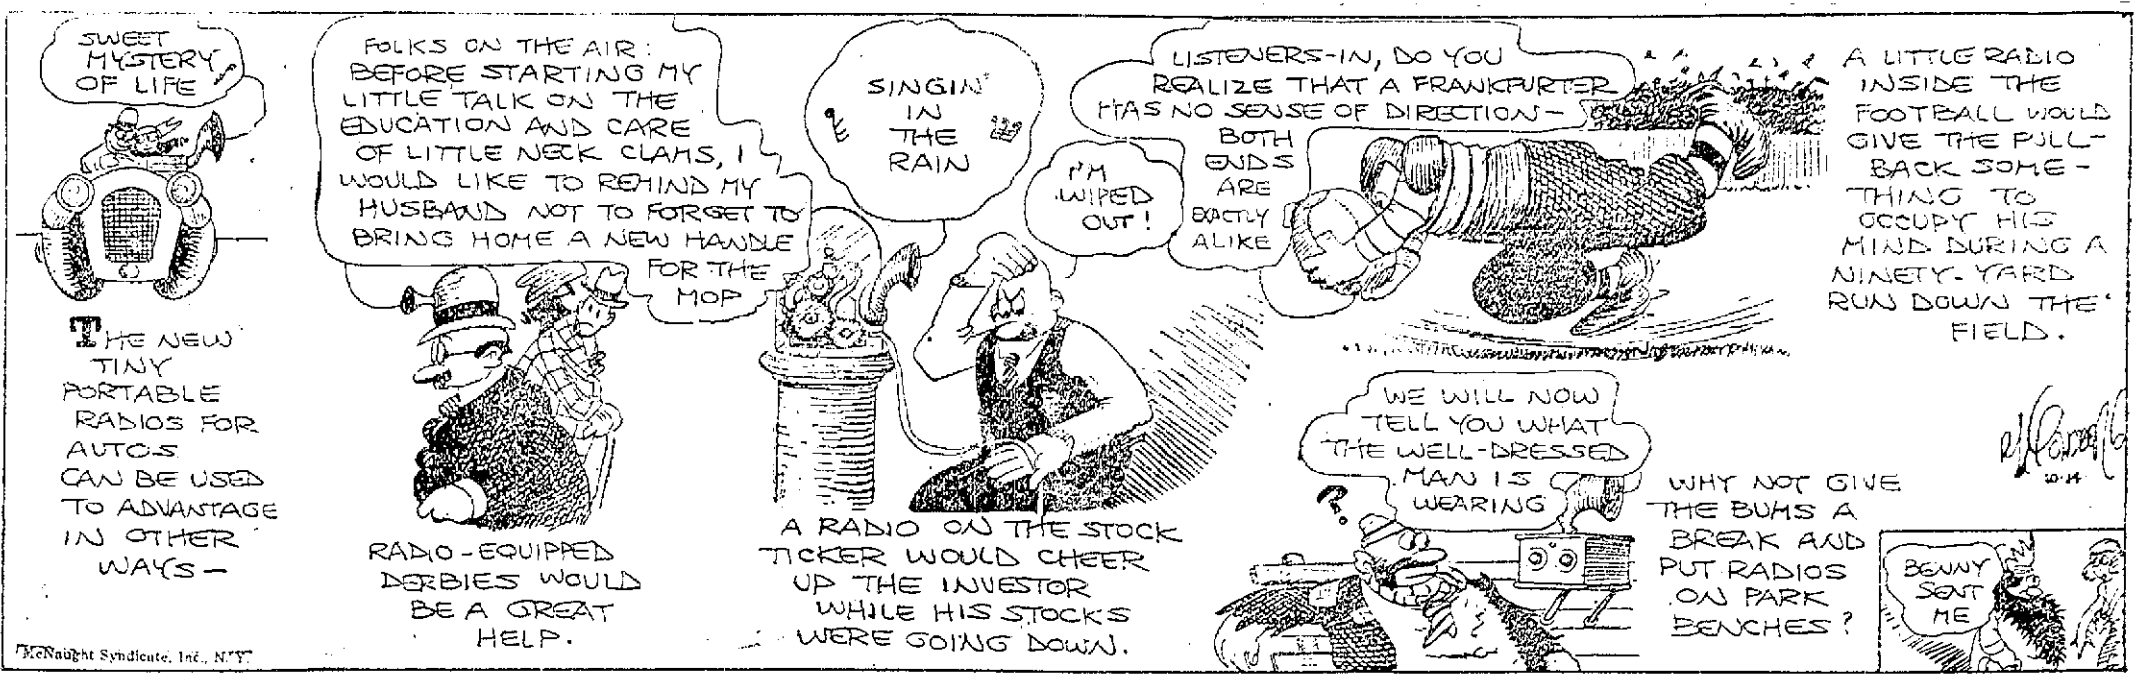

New Castle received the kickoff at the 22-yard line as the first quarter closed. The score was 0-0. New Castle lost the ball on a fumble in the closing minutes of the first quarter and regained it again when Westinghouse was forced to kick.

Alexander was thrown for a loss of 10 yards in an attempted pass. McIntosh dropped back and turned on to the 3-yard line and there waited for a play. He then heaved a pass to a colored halfback named that, who by his beam and speed his feet got to desert him. Down the field he sped, making for the left-side boundary. He ran the edge of the field like a tight-rope walker. The Westinghouse players were bowing over the locals like ten-pins. On and on Ware sped, with the fleetness of a deer. He soon outdistanced the whole New Castle team with the exception of McAuley. The man running in (Continued On Next Page)

Chances Of Cubs Winning Series Are Quite Slim

Pittsburgh Pirates In 1925 Won Title After Being Licked Three Times

CAN CUBS TURN TRICK AGAIN?

By HAROLD JOHNSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—Harking back over the misty past, a period of 24 world series, one observes that 10 teams were in the same fix the Bruins find themselves in the wake of their unusual defeat of Saturday.

Just one of those teams crashed through to victory and took the championship of the world, so the chances of McCarthy's ensemble are nothing to brag about. However, the task they face is not one which has never been accomplished.

The last time any world series team was on the short end of the three-to-one count was in 1925, when the Pittsburgh Pirates walloped the Washington Nationals for the championship.

There are many respects in which the current classic parallels the 1925 series. Just as the Cubs of 1925 played listless box, so did the Pirates of that year. The Corsairs apparently could not get going. The Cubs looked that way in this series.

Cubs Not So Hot
The Cubs have been guilty of so much bad baseball that it seems as if their cause is hopeless. The same condition prevailed when the Washington Senators met the Pirates. Washington won the fourth game, 4 to 0, and ran the count three games to one in favor of the American League.

The Pirates, with this situation, went into the fifth game with the tension gone and threw caution to the winds.

They capped the fifth game, 6 to 3, took the sixth, 3 to 1, and grabbed the championship on the fourth game, 4 to 0, and ran the count three games to one in favor of the American League.

In this role we give you Hazen Cuyler, a triple wrecked Johnson. That day he splashed through the mud and rain and brought in the winning runs.

Grove City High
Tops Sharpsville
Grove City high upset the dope bucket in Mercer county on Saturday by trouncing the highly touted Sharpsville high team 24 to 0. The "Gym" team defeated the Sharpsville team 24 to 0. The "Gym" team defeated the Sharpsville team 24 to 0.

Westminster Plays
Grove City Saturday
Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald of Westminster, Pa., announced yesterday that Athletic Director Robert Thurn of Grove City had ordered 1,000 tickets for the Grove City-Westminster football game to be played here next Saturday October 19.

The Grover game will be the feature of the United Presbyterian homecoming celebration. A large group of alumni have already written in for tickets. The order from Grove City assures Westminster of a victory. A Grove City crowd of 1,000 is expected.

Rivalry between Grove City and Westminster dates back to 1892. Since that time 33 games have been played. Grove City winning 15, Westminster winning 12 and four games ending in ties. The 33rd meeting of the schools on the gridiron next Saturday gives promise of continuing the traditions of other years.

Vandergrift Will Have Good Eleven

New Castle High Will Battle Vandergrift High At Franklin Field Saturday

New Castle high's opponents for the remainder of the season showed potential strength in games played last Saturday.

Vandergrift high, the team that comes to the stadium this Saturday, defeated Leechburg 46 to 0 in a heated rivalry battle. Coach Ham Hudson appears to have a good team this year. Earlier in the season the Hudson machine upset Butler 13 to 6.

Greensburg high was an easy winner Saturday in their game with Connelville, the final score being 36 to 0. The Loucks team looks like the W. P. L. A. title winners this season.

Bellevue high rose out a 6 to 0 victory over Ben Avon in their game played Saturday.

South high of Youngstown took one on the chin Saturday from Gary, Ind., high school, 32 to 7. The Youngstown-towners were surprised to the utmost.

Fordham Defeats New York U For Big Surprise In New York City

YALE-PRINCETON
SUFFER SETBACKS
By HENRY MELEMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Nonchalant as a Main Street fire plug, football, after a mad week-end of surprises and upsets today calmly resumed the knocking of subs a little earlier in preparation for the games to come.

It is doubtful whether football in all its history has seen so many major casualties so early in an October date. All over the country we find teams that started off the year aimed at nothing less than a national championship working under the disappointment of games lost. In the East Yale, Princeton, Syracuse and New York University, in the South Georgia Tech, and Vanderbilt, in the Middle West Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin, are among the high-powered teams that failed to keep their record clean.

It is hard to say which was Saturday's most outstanding upset. Fordham's victory over New York U or Georgia's victory over Yale. The Violets, off by a major straggler, were stopped cold by Saint Catharine's squad while Yale, happy over the news of a new system of play, were completely outplayed by the Georgians.

Hardly less surprising was Princeton's loss to Brown. "Tiger" the Tiger is notorious as a slow starter there were few that gave Brown more than a fighting chance.

Purely from a standpoint of good football the best game of last week was provided at Baltimore when a highly promising Notre Dame eleven shipped Navy's hopes by a touchdown.

The experts seem to agree that Mr. Rochelle has quite a bit of a football team this year—one that may be strong enough to come through a December schedule unscathed.

Girl's Basketball Is Eliminated At Monongahela High

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Oct. 14.—Girls' interscholastic basketball at Monongahela high school has been banned by the Monongahela board of education. Inter-class intra-mural basketball, however, will be continued at the school.

The interscholastic branch of the feminine floor sport was considered too arduous. Inter-class girls' games were considered excellent for physical training. It was also stated that one of the reasons leading to the discontinuance of the inter-school games was the large amount of time and effort consumed in preparatory practice.

Davis-Elkins Trims Geneva

Touchdown In Second Quarter Gives West Virginians 7 To 0 Victory

DEWEYVILLE, Pa., Oct. 14.—The Davis-Elkins football team failed to display much potent strength against Geneva here Saturday afternoon, although the West Virginians did show over a touchdown in the second quarter to take a 7 to 0 victory.

Coach Mack Flemin's Covenanters proved a real opponent for the Henderson coached aggregation. Geneva had the ball in scoring position several times but failed to negotiate that coveted distance.

McCarthy Likely To Use Carlson This Afternoon

Cub's Manager In Desperate Straights Regarding His Flinging Department

GUY BUSH NEEDS LITTLE MORE REST

By HARRY NEALY
International News Service Special Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—What can Hal Carlson or Pat Malone accomplish when facing the vigorous bats of the Athletics?

That question was uppermost in the minds of Cubs' supporters this morning for Marse Joe announced that he would just use one of these stalwarts in what will be the final game of the 1926 world series if the Athletics win.

"I can't send Bush back with such a brief rest," McCarthy said. "I like to but Malone has been in only four and one third innings this series."

On the other hand, the manager seemed inclined to Carlson. He is a change-of-pace pitcher with a slow curve and a medium amount of speed. It is recalled when the Cubs were in desperate need of victories in the National League campaign, Carlson won six essential ball games.

The pitching staff was wabbling at the time Carlson executed his sterling work and he had no small part in bringing the flag to Chicago.

STRUB BATTLES HACKLEY HERE TONIGHT

Strub Making Second Battle

Hernandez To Tackle Ray
Van Hook, Detroit's New Ring Star

MARSHAL CROCHETTE TO BOX SULLIVAN

By ED FRITZ

Fight fans of New Castle will get an opportunity to explode excess enthusiasm tonight when Hackley Strub, Erie and Jimmy Hackley, Indianapolis, a pair of fifty lightweights clash in a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds. It will be the second time Strub has appeared here but it will be the inaugural of Hackley.

Strub and Hackley are reported by their managers to be at weight, 135, and in the pink of condition. Strub is rated as one of the best in the country and the ability of Hackley has long been established here and Hackley recently fought Tony Herrera a thrilling tilt at Indianapolis.

On paper the match appears like a whirlwind. Strub will have the edge in height and reach but Hackley will have the edge in punch. No lightweight battle which has been staged in this city in recent years ranks with the coming engagement.

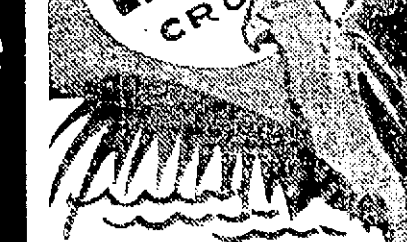

Both Rated Good
It is nothing strange for Hackley to fight before crowds as his bout with Eddie Anderson, which resulted in a draw pulled 15,000 fans through the gates. His battles with Johnny Datto were the rage of Cincinnati and when he met Tony Herrera, the Indianapolis arena was packed.

Strub has been a big success story since before the late Tex Rickard answered the Great Referee's beckon. Tex ranked the Erie lightweight seventh best in the country. When Strub battled Carney here Paris failed to connect his left fist with Strub's jaw and passed out of the picture via a knockout.

While this fight is docketed for the main feature the semi-final between Jack Hernandez, a former Philadelphia now living in Erie and Ray Van Hook, Detroit, should be the berries. Jack has pleased here twice. Van Hook is pronounced one of the best of the younger Detroit lightweights and he wants to make good in the six rounder.

Here's Terrence O'Roy

Before this lightweight scrap goes on there will be another six rounds between featherweights and from what we hear it will be a humdinger. It will bring together the Fighting Irish lad, Terrence O'Roy, Syracuse, N. Y., and Charlie Adams, Cleveland. They are good boys and every fan should have his punch lust satisfied.

Marshal Crochette, the Utica, N. Y., Frenchman who rode a big hit last week with take on Johnny Sullivan, Cleveland. Crochette hits from any angle is a skillful boxer and is a second Herrera. Sullivan is a tough kid, one who takes a punch to give a punch and is said to be better than the foe that Crochette met last Monday.

This bout was necessitated when Johnny Thomas of Youngstown injured himself while training and he asked that the bout be called off. A telephone call brought the Flaring Frenchman to the bowl with Sullivan as an opponent. It looks as though this set to will be fraught with thrills.

Bouts Start Earlier
Billy Murphy, Ryanstown and Jimmy Winners, South Side, local 145 pounders will open the show. Murphy won two knockouts but Dime Report has it that Murphy will not have a pink tea time tonight as Winners has been angling for weeks for a punch at Murf. This bout holds a lot of interest for their followers.

JOE WARE FEATURES WITH 95 YARD DASH

ference for Ware took care of McAuley and the path to the goal-line was unobstructed.

That run of Ware's was good for 95-yards, and was as prettily an executed piece of broken field running as you would care to witness. He got a big hand from the crowd, both New Castle and Pittsburgh and he deserved it believe me. How he did run.

New Castle Rallies
McIlveen dropped back and kicked a placement for the extra-point and Westinghouse had a lead of 20 to 7, and with the minutes fleeing in the period, it looked like curtains for the locals.

With all the fight and fury left the New Castle boys took the position of under-dogs, and how they did battle.

Durzo Kicked off to New Castle, but the locals soon lost the ball on a kick when the going got tough. Ware kicked to New Castle on the 40-yard line. Alexander uncorked a nice pass to Hannan good for 30 yards, and the ball rested on the Westinghouse 28-yard line. The New Castle team started a march down the field with McIlveen and Alexander making some headway. A pass Alexander to Mooney caught Westinghouse by surprise and the ball rested on the Westinghouse 10-yard line. Westinghouse got a five yard penalty for offside, and this gave New Castle the ball on the five yard line. McIlveen and Alexander punched the ball for three yards between them. With the ball resting on the half-coat mark, Alexander hit the center and was over for a touchdown.

Alexander tried a pass to Hannan for the extra point but it was grounded. New Castle 13, Westinghouse 20. Durzo had just enough time left to kickoff again for Westinghouse before the game ended, with New Castle in possession of the ball in midfield. Binder took the kick and was downed on the 48-yard line.

Plenty Of Passes

New Castle High tried nine forward passes and completed six of them. Westinghouse attempted five and made good on three of them. New Castle gained 53 yards by forward passes, and Westinghouse made 30-yards via the air, one of them for a touchdown.

New Castle did not receive a penalty. Westinghouse had 30-yards called on them for offside. The fact that New Castle went through the game without a penalty is some kind of a local record.

The locals gained 150 yards by scrimmage, and Westinghouse made 30-yards through the line.
The summary:

Athletics Need But Victory Today And Series Will Be In

Connie Mack About To Realize His Greatest Ambition, Another World's Title

Chicago Cubs Fighting Mad As They Prepare For Stand In Fifth Game

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Editor—PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—Another day of drama this afternoon and perhaps the world series of 1929 will be no more, except in a vivid, burning memory that will live, not for just an hour, not for just for a day, not for just a year—but always. The Philadelphia Athletics, immortal sponsors of that ten run rally in the seventh inning of Saturday's ball game, can end it all before tonight. They need only best the Chicago Cubs again in the fifth game of the series and the world's title will be theirs without demerit.

Incidentally they could select no more auspicious moment for the coup de grace, since the first fan of the nation, President Hoover, will be among the 30,000 crowd, just a plain, everyday American taking his holiday as millions of other Americans would wish to take it. The president and Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by Attorney General and Secretary of Agriculture, Arthur M. Hyde will arrive from Washington at 1 o'clock just in time to take in the game, which will start a half hour later. They will occupy the box of honor as the guests of the Shibles.

One Big Inning.

So, in the presence of the most illustrious guests the nation can offer, the most remarkable world series of the decade will go on to—what? Frankly, a series that can produce an inning like Saturday's seventh and total of 44 strike-outs for the Cubs in four games might be deemed to be capable of further miracles, of which a comeback for the Cubs today would have to be par or better for the course.

Their heads might be bloody, under the budgeonings of fate, this Chicago outfit, but they held them high today as they left for the ball park and didn't wear that the past was a clean slate in which the present and future were to write a paen of triumph. The Cubs talked a good victory this morning, having recovered some measure of composure after the shock of Saturday's developments, but it may be another thing to talk a home run over the fence against a club that now was convinced that it couldn't go wrong.

Macks Look Good.
Such a club was the Athletics, leading in the series by three games to one and needing only a single victory in any one of the remaining three to take the title to the championship. The remaining three? Such a club as the Athletics, having conceived of nothing more improbable than that the series would carry beyond this afternoon. They figure they have the series won and their idea is to keep it won.

They had both the weather and betting fraternity with them on this plan, the day dawning clear and bright, thus giving them a chance to play the ball game. This was important, it having been discovered some years ago that you can't win a ball game that you don't play. As for the gamblers, they said it with odds as high as 8 to 1 with no takers, everybody having accepted a Philadelphia victory as a matter of fact.

If it doesn't come today in Philadelphia, they argue, it must come in the sixth game at Chicago on Wednesday or, at the worst, in the seventh and final game on Thursday. They were betting pearls against pretzels this morning that it wouldn't go that far, however.

Need One Victory.
Many indeed felt that the Athletics would carry the flash of their great victory of Saturday with them into today's meeting and so put an end to the agony. Locally, if it were also that rally in the seventh was the great conviction. It mattered not that two of the hits would have been putouts if Wilson hadn't been blinded by the sun, that another of them might have been a double play except that the ball took an insane bound over McMillan's head and that a fourth might have been charged as an error by Stephenson. The box score said they were hits and hits they remained to a Philadelphia crowd that had every right to be proud of a club that could come from the rear so gallantly.

Resident opinion, indeed, was all for putting a padlock on the rest of the proceedings before another day was done, just to prove even more conclusively than before that the better club was to win the championship.

Consider the street car conductor.

Carnegie Midgets Win From Juniors
Carnegie Midgets scored a 14-0 victory over the Home Street Juniors in an exciting contest Saturday.
The Carnegie team was scheduled to play the Home Street Midgets but the latter failed to appear and the Juniors were played. The entire team shared honors for the winners.
It is the Carnegie team that is seeking the midget title. The players range in age from 13 to 16 and for games call 2167-J.

Amateur Football
Mahoningtown All Star football team handed Reider's Eleven a 24-12 setback on Saturday at the Mahoningtown field. Billie scored two touchdowns for his team while Ezzo, and Cepero tallied one for victors. Jimmy Abraham scored two touchdowns for the losers. The defeat was the first for Reider's Eleven.

Police Probing Death Of Girl, Man Is Jailed

Married Man Jailed On Murder Charges As Body Of Young Girl Is Found Strangled

COMPANION TELLS ATTACK DETAILS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—A married man and the father of a 10-year-old son today was held in a jail at Wheaton, Chicago suburb, while police sought to solve the mystery of the death of pretty Agnes Johnson, who had been criminally attacked and strangled, according to a companion's statement.

John E. Preston, 32, painter and step-father, was held after police said they learned Preston had invited Miss Johnson and her "girl friend" Mathilde Murphy, to a lonely roadhouse.

Miss Murphy told detectives that Preston, after taking several drinks, made unwilling advances to Miss Johnson and that both girls had leaped from Preston's automobile. Miss Murphy escaped, according to her story to police. Preston seized Miss Johnson and dragged her towards a clump of bushes where her body was found later.

Preston, his clothing stained and disheveled, was arrested while on a train en route to Chicago. An automobile he had rented was found near the scene of the alleged attack. It was blood-stained, according to police. The girl's body had been scratched and bruised, police said.

Nation's Business At High Level For First Nine Months

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Business and industrial conditions throughout the country at the three-quarter mark for the year continue at high level, Secretary of Commerce Lamont said today in a summary of the business outlook.

Production of iron and steel, long regarded as a barometer of general business conditions, was 17 per cent greater for the first nine months of the year than last year, and automobile production was the greatest in history for a similar period.

Justice Holmes Keeps Vigorous At 88 Years

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the supreme court, is 88 years old, but has not reached the end of his crowded career. He still appears as vigorous as his frequent dissenting opinions.

And added to the weight of his years are three bullet wounds received in the Civil War which he entered a lieutenant and emerged from a colonel. At Fall Bluff, he was shot through the breast, at Antietam through the neck and at Fredericksburg in the heel.

KINDERGARTEN FOR MOTHERS IS LATEST WRINKLE

Mothers now attend kindergarten classes with their children in Evanston, Chicago's north shore aristocratic suburb. They must play games, model clay, draw pictures, and even learn how to take naps, just as they did years and years ago. Here is a scene in a kindergarten and elementary college where more than 50 mothers have enrolled. The pupils, adult and child, are, left to right, Billy Curto, Mrs. E. Y. Pierson, Eleanor Davis, Stanley Dittmar, Mrs. V. J. Curto, and Mary Elizabeth Curto. The girls are modeling animals in clay.

Atlanta's Bad Man Breaks Hunger Strike

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Oct. 14.—One more hunger strike has ended and one more mighty meal has been devoured. Roy Gardner, "Atlanta's most dangerous convict," was brought to St. Elizabeth's hospital, Washington for the insane on the 15th day of his hunger strike. He decided to end the strike and what he did to the heap of stanzas brought to him was a marvel to all who beheld.

The great Egyptian obelisk in Central Park, New York was coated with paraffin in 1885 and has since resisted the disintegrating effects of weather.

Prince George Is Taking Up Aviation

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 14.—Prince George, the youngest son of the King, and sometimes referred to as the "bad boy" of the Royal family, has practically recovered from his recent illness and will return to his duties at the Foreign Office this month.

Digestive trouble caused him to give up all work a couple of months ago and since then he has been resting in the country.

Like his illustrious brother, the Prince of Wales, he is taking up flying both as a sport and as a means of quick transportation.

Being the handsome Prince of one of the greatest of the few kingdoms left, he is called upon to attend social functions of every description, from opening baby clinics to entertaining existing Royal Princesses.

As many of the civic functions are outside London, the young Prince is finding air travel much more comfortable and interesting than tire-some train journeys.

High Heels Blamed For Bad Health Of Women

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Oct. 14.—"High heels are the ruin of women."

That was the contention of Dr. Brenton R. Lutz, professor of Biology at Boston University's college of Liberal Arts.

A woman's heel are a barometer to her health, Professor Lutz said, with high heels pointing to a fall in general condition. Anything higher than a sensible walking shoe should be ruled off the student wardrobe, he added.
